Town's School Tax Expected to Increase More Than 9% in '91

Very early 1991 school tax projections indicate the possibility of a 9.4 percent increase in the Borough, from $1.59 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.74, and a 9.3 percent increase in the Township, from $1.72 to 1.88.

These projections are tentative because the State has not provided any revenue projections, nor has the change in net valuations been provided.

The figures are based on raising $24 million through the school tax. Last year, $21.2 million was obtained through the district tax.

In 1990, the school tax increased 8.2 percent in the Borough and 9.6 percent in the Township. The 1990 school budget was $24.5 million. This year's estimated budget is $30.3 million, a figure Corinne Kyle, chair of the School Board's Business and Finance Committee, believes will be cut.

Ms. Kyle said that the pressure on the School Board because of the changes in the State funding formula is providing an opportunity "to look at some assumptions we would have had trouble pulling up by their roots before. "If we ever needed to look at assumptions, this is the year," she added. "If we don't use this year constructively, we will find new costs laid on us without time to consider how best to meet them."

Ms. Kyle sees the potential to save approximately $125,000 in this year's budget by changing the assumption relating to amount of teaching experience.

About nine teachers are expected to retire this year, she said, at a top salary of about $53,000. In addition, five new teachers will need to be hired to deal with the growth in the system.

Unemployed Cook Is Charged With 16 Princeton Burglaries

A 22-year-old unemployed short-order cook from Trenton was arrested last week by two Borough detectives and later charged with committing 16 burglaries, eight thefts and two attempted burglaries in Princeton.

The suspect, Bobby Ragoonath Jr., allegedly broke into homes and parked cars in the area of Library Place, Hodge Road and Cleveland Lane from October 5 through December and one business firm, Princeton Furs on Witherspoon Street. Most of the stolen items, amounting to a value of $12,000, have been recovered, Capt. Thomas Michaud said.

Ragoonath was released in his own recognizance, pending action by a Mercer County Grand Jury. "From our understanding, he acted alone," Capt. Michaud commented.

Detectives Gerald Patterson and Ralph Teracciano, who worked on the case, developed information that led them to suspect Ragoonath, Capt. Michaud reported. Ragoonath, a former Borough resident, was called in for questioning. He complied. After questioning by the detectives on Friday afternoon, he was placed under arrest.

Ragoonath decided to cooperate with the investigation and led police to a number of locations in Trenton. "Some of the stolen items were in a friend's house, some he sold, and some were at home," Capt. Michaud said. Among the items police recovered were a $3,800 fur coat stolen from Princeton Furs, a $900 Burberry trench coat, stereo equipment, clothing and a radar detector.

The charges of criminal attempted burglary against Ragoonath involved two homes which he unsuccessfully attempted to break into, Capt. Michaud said. He declined to reveal how the detectives were able to implicate Ragoonath in the thefts but he cited them for some fine police work during their investigation.

Greatest Challenge of New Mayor Is Solving Problem of Griggs Farm

A new Republican administration took over in Princeton Township on New Year's Day, as Richard C. Woodbridge was sworn into office as mayor and Ellen F. Souter as deputy mayor at the 1991 reorganization meeting of Township Committee.

The meeting began with a Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States and an invocation by former United Methodist Bishop Prince Taylor. The oath of office was administered to Ms. Souter and Frederick M. Porter as recently elected members of Township Committee by the Honorable Arthur S. Lane.

There was a chilly civility to the formalities. Phyllis Marchand and Leonard Godfrey — the two Democrats remaining on Committee after the November election in which last year's Mayor, Kate Litvack, was denied a second term on Committee in a bruising campaign — refrained from any votes having to do with the nominations for mayor and deputy mayor.

Before taking her seat on the dais, Ms. Souter thanked the capacity audience for the opportunity to serve and pledged that "matters as serious" as the "undisclosed shortfall [at Griggs Farm] will never be hidden from the public," a direct reference to a Republican campaign theme. Mr. Porter also reiterated his concerns about the cost of government and the amount of taxes Township residents pay, particularly those on fixed incomes. He pledged he would look "long and hard at all expenditures and keep costs at a manageable level" to the best of his ability.

Mayor Woodbridge began his speech by recalling his first grade teacher at the old Nassau Street School, Mrs. Burnett Griggs, who, he said, embodied "action, accountabil-ty and appreciation." Mrs. Griggs's husband ran the successful Imperial Restaurant on Witherspoon Street, and she was one of the first black teachers in the public school system. Griggs Farm is named for them.

Calling the problems affecting the Griggs Farm development "the greatest challenge facing the incoming Mayor of Princeton Township," Mr. Woodbridge said, "If we apply her principles of action, accountability and appreciation, we can rise to the challenges of Griggs Farm." Inflating the possible projected loss to $14,670,000, nearly $5 million more than the baseline projection of $9.8 million in the

Borough Police & Fire Chiefs Oppose Overnight Parking

An ordinance permitting limited overnight parking in the Borough is expected to be put on hold while Borough Council considers objections raised by the Police and Fire Chiefs.

Memos from Police Chief Michael F. Carnevale and Fire Chief Eric W. Karch were scheduled to be discussed at the Council meeting scheduled for Tuesday night, January 8.

In his memo, Chief Carnevale states that all-night parking would adversely affect public safety, public works, daytime parking restrictions, and crime prevention.

Fire and rescue units, said the Chief, may be impeded or totally obstructed from access to certain streets, especially during snowstorms when snow is plowed up against parked cars on very narrow streets.

He contends that garbage collection, leaf collection, and street cleaning services would also be adversely affected. And all-night parking permit holders might, because of illness or other problems, park in two-hour zones for extended periods and be unable to move their cars during the day.

Finally, Chief Carnevale pointed out that all-night parking restrictions aid in the overall crime prevention effort and enhance detection efforts.

"Unfortunately, some residents would risk a negative change in the quality of life for the supreme comfort of parking in front of their respective dwellings," he said.

Fire Chief Karch wrote that the department is generally opposed to overnight permit parking because of the narrowness of many of the Borough streets, especially the one-way streets.

"The one-way streets as they are now, without parked cars, are narrow enough that emergency vehicles must proceed with more than the usual amount of caution," said Chief Karch. "Parked cars on those streets could slow us to an unreasonable response time."

The draft ordinance provides for a limited plan of overnight permit parking that would serve about 45 dwellings, said Mayor Marvin Reed. He added that one question Council will have to consider is how hazardous, in terms of the objections raised, will 45 cars be, spread across the Borough?

A number of Borough residents have come to Council meetings over the last few months seeking some form of overnight parking relief. They raised such issues as the potential danger in walking home alone late at night, and the need to leave young children home alone while parking a car.

The ordinance would allow permit overnight parking to Borough residents who do not have on-site parking available to them and who do not live in the Central Business District. Residents of the CBD have overnight parking available in nearby public lots.

Only one overnight parking permit would be issued per dwelling unit.

School Taxes

Ms. Kyle said that the question was, at what salary level would the new teachers be hired? Last year, they were hired with an average of eight years' experience. If, for example, this were changed to five years' experience, it would save $125,000 in the overall budget.

A number of other areas are being looked at by the School Board as it attempts to reduce this year's budget and deal with the long-term issues of rising costs and shrinking State aid.

For example, Princeton Regional is one of the few districts organized on a per-hour payment plan in providing extra pay for extra service (e.p.e.s.). Most districts pay teachers a set amount for their extra service.

"As part of contract negotiations, the teachers' union and the Board of Education agreed to consider the way e.p.e.s. is administered," said Ms. Kyle.

The possibility of eliminating some courses at the high school, and eyeing others, may also be considered during the upcoming budget discussions.

Princeton Regional, unlike some other districts, does not charge students for field trips, instrument use, and similar items. Its policy has been, said Ms. Kyle, that it is a public school system, and everything should be available to everybody. This policy, however, is also currently being evaluated.

It is estimated that the State's new school financing plan will eventually cost the District from $600,000 to $1 million a year in State aid. In addition, the District will have to take over $2.4 million in teachers' pension and social security expenses. Strenuous efforts have been under way for months to change this law and have the State continue to fund pensions and social security.

Every element of the new school financing law is currently in flux, as various legislators call for extensive changes. This week, Senate President John Lynch and Senate Majority Leader Daniel Dalton said they will introduce legislation to divert $450 million in new aid from urban school districts and use it, instead, for statewide property tax relief.

Township Committee Plans Special Meeting For Discussion of Affordable Housing Issues

Township Mayor Richard C. Woodbridge has scheduled an extra meeting of Township Committee on Thursday, January 17, to be devoted to affordable housing issues.

Committee spent the better part of its work session on Monday night discussing the steps Mayor Woodbridge outlined in his inaugural address to address the problems faced by the Griggs Farm development. Housing Consultant Martha Lamar presented a report on lease/purchase agreements, one of the techniques for attracting more buyers for the development recommended in the Morton Hoffman report. Committee also reviewed a memorandum from Housing Manager Susan Repko on a developer/manager for the Griggs Farm market units.

Ms. Repko said there are three ways that a developer experienced in working on projects in mid-stream could help the Township. The first is by straight purchase, selling the existing unsold inventory and the remaining land and development rights to a developer.

The second is a joint venture with a developer which could take various forms. She cited as an example, the Township contributing the remaining land and site improvements and the developer contributing the management of existing sales and additional financing needed to build out the project. The split of profits would be negotiated.

A developer/manager could also be retained on a fee basis, she said. Ms. Repko added that some larger developers may only be interested if they can sell the remaining inventory and be guaranteed the development rights for the last courtyard. A developer would want to review the project books and see the site plan and building specs before making a decision.

One of the firms Ms. Repko contacted said it would probably take a minimum of two months for them to review this information, make a decision and negotiate with the Township. She recommended that Committee decide which of the three types of arrangements it would prefer before sending out a request for proposal to any developer.

In Defense of Griggs Farm

At this point, although work sessions are not normally a time for public comment, Mayor Woodbridge consented to a request by Malcolm J. Closterman to speak about Griggs Farm. Mr. Closterman is a former financial executive with Gulf & Western and RCA who has been working with the Griggs Farm development full time for several years on a volunteer basis, setting up its accounting system and designing projection models.

Mr. Closterman said he had been "sitting on the sidelines seeing Griggs Farm banded around, slandered and severely injured by management consultants seeking follow-on contracts, candidates, committee-men and malicious newspapers seeking attention-getting headlines."

He said that since the start of the political campaign in the fall, sales of market townhouses at Griggs Farm, which had been two a month in the previous three months, ceased entirely. He attributed this to the decline in the real estate market and to the "continuous high level of adverse publicity." He accused Committee of not making any effort to get the Griggs Farm side of the story and urged members to work with PCH rather than bring in another developer to take over.

In the discussion that followed Mayor Woodbridge said that "the only responsible thing for Township Committee is to take the recommendations in the [Morton Hoffman] report and act on them." Committee-woman Phyllis Marchand suggested a summit meeting on sales technique with several people with development expertise within the Township rather than paying for another consultant.

Mayor Woodbridge then suggested proceeding on parallel tracks: developing a request for a proposal for a developer/manager while at the same time gathering ideas on improving sales from the Housing Board, the new tax and finance committee be is proposing, PCH and other interested, experienced individuals. He asked for these comments to be submitted by Thursday, January 17, when the request for proposal (RFP) is also to be ready for action.

Committee also heard a recommendation from the Township's new financial officer, Himanshu Shah, recommending that the accounting firm of Peat Marwick, which already does the accounting for Borough and Township, be asked to do the independent financial accounting of Griggs Farm. There was discussion of whether other firms might also be contacted; a RFP for this service will also be prepared by the 17th.

Tax & Finance Committee

Mayor Woodbridge named four Township residents to his proposed tax and finance committee which is to give Committee guidance on tax and finance matters and help it implement the Morton Hoffman report on Griggs Farm. They are Larry Swirsky of Prince William Court, whom Mayor Woodbridge described as an engineer and a realtor; Carl C. Shafer Jr. of Jefferson Road, former Township mayor and owner of Shafer's Market; Walter B. Foster Jr. of Princeton-Kingston Road, a former Township Committeeman and former president of Nassau Savings & Loan; and Russell J. Cole of Birch Avenue, a certified public accountant.

Committee authorized Township attorney Edwin W. Schmierer to prepare an ordinance that would set up such a committee and bring it back for public hearing and vote. Mayor Woodbridge invited Committee members to submit other names if they wished.

Housing Consultant Martha Lamar told Committee that lease/purchase programs that are properly designed and implemented offer advantages to both buyer and seller. "But they are not a miracle solution for the kind of sales situation we are in right now," Ms. Lamar warned.

She said that a lease/purchase program could be a useful addition to the ongoing sales effort at Griggs Farm and its success would depend on effective marketing, hands-on counseling of potential purchaser, attractive pricing and financing, and a high level of cooperation from lenders.

However, a purchaser would need an income of at least $43,000, Ms. Lamar said, to be able to meet the monthly payments of $1200 before closing and $1123 after closing that she outlined in a sample scenario for the lease/purchase of a $114,500 two-bedroom townhouse at Griggs Farm. She also discussed the fact that no lender is willing to provide a mortgage on less than a 10 percent down payment.

The New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency has some attractive single-family mortgage programs but the income eligibility guidelines are lower than those for Griggs Farm. Ms. Lamar suggested that PJHMF might try to persuade the NJHMF to increase its income limits to levels allowed in urban target areas, or it might lower prices slightly at Griggs farm so that a substantial number of buyers would become eligible for these mortgages.

Lowering prices would attract more buyers in itself and also bring with it advantageous NJHMF financing, she said.

Borough Accused of "Interfering" In Township/University Negotiations

Township Mayor Richard Woodbridge has accused the Borough of "interfering" with the Township's ongoing negotiations with Princeton University on the West Drive site for affordable housing.

By way of a report at Township Committee meeting on Monday, Mayor Woodbridge stated that several on Township Committee were concerned to read an account in the January 2 edition of TOWN TOPICS that "suggested that the Borough wished to involve itself with ongoing negotiations between the Township and Princeton University over property on West Drive. The account went so far as to suggest that the University should deal only with the Borough and that the Township should be cut out of the negotiations.

"We are hopeful that this account is not an accurate representation of the Borough's attitude," Mayor Woodbridge continued. "The West Drive property as an affordable housing site is the result of long and protracted discussions between the Township and the University that started with the Butler tract as a site for our Mt. Laurel housing.

"The Borough has no legal business interfering with the Township's ongoing negotiations with the University and any intrusion into the Township's exclusive business is not welcomed or appropriate. The Borough is the original applicant for a HUD grant which was intended for construction on Borough property.

"Just because the Borough has changed its mind about building more affordable housing in the Borough is no reason for the Borough to look to the Township to fulfill the Borough's obligation."

Committeewoman Ellen Souter read a memo from Township Attorney Edwin Schmierer summarizing a meeting with HUD authorities in Newark in November that suggested the Borough Housing Authority consider the Quarry Street site as the location for the HUD grant.

Mayor Woodbridge said he had spoken to the community relations director at the University and had been assured that the University does not intend to rule the Township out of negotiations on the West Drive site. Committeewoman Phyllis Marchand said she was certain this was also not the Borough's intention either. "I look forward to ongoing negotiations," Ms. Marchand said.

$2,000 Machine Stolen From Engineering Quad

A pipe-threading machine, valued at an estimated $2,000, has been stolen from an electrical equipment room in the Engineering Quadrangle. Police report the victim, a Freehold firm, had stored the machine in the room during the holiday period.

Ski equipment, including a pair of men's skis, boots, bindings, poles and ski bag valued at $665, and a $200 half-inch drill set were stolen overnight last week from a garage on Linden Lane, where the victim lives.

An AM/FM cassette stereo and a carrying case with tapes, worth a combined $525, were stolen last week from a 1988 Hyundai while it was parked in a University lot adjacent to the Wawa store on University Place. Although the owner, a resident of Hopewell, reported the car was locked, police said there were no signs of a forced entry.

A Brooklyn resident on Saturday left a small black cloth suitcase unattended near the Park and Shop garage entrance on Hulfish Street. Stolen, the bag contained clothing valued at $445 and a $60 pair of earrings. Total loss: $620.

The same day, a Pittsburgh resident learned how chancy it can be to leave something unattended. She left a green canvas bookbag unattended near the second-floor Princeton Room at the Nassau Inn. The bag was later recovered in a hallway but the contents were missing. The victim lost $30 in cash and jewelry valued at $750, including a necklace and several pairs of earrings.

An employee at the Princeton Medical Center reported the theft of a waist-length grey wool winter coat valued at $110 from a coat rack in the staff lounge. It was taken Saturday between 7 a.m. and 3 in the afternoon.

Two bicycles were reported stolen last week. A $350 red Trek mountain bike was taken Sunday from in front of the Engineering Quadrangle, and a red Bianchi mountain bike, valued at $430, was stolen from the Graduate College campus. Both bikes, police report, had been locked to themselves.

Heater Causes Fire In Erdman Ave. Home

A 1500-watt electric heater ignited low hanging towels in the bathroom of an Erdman Avenue home two days before the end of the year and caused extensive damage to the room.

The flames then ignited a laundry basket and spread to the shower curtain, floor and walls. Eight firemen responded to the 11:54 a.m. call and put out the fire immediately, police said.

Flasher Called a Jerk By 34-Year-Old Victim

A "baby-faced" flasher exposing himself to a 34-year-old Point Pleasant resident near the Dinky Station Friday morning fled the scene after she called him a jerk.

The victim, police said, was standing near the train on lower University Place around 8 in the morning when she noticed a man near the train station some 40 yards away. She discovered that he was looking at her while exposing himself and masturbating.

Police said when the victim called out that he was a jerk, he fled. He was described as a stocky white male in his early 20s, about 5-7, with short dark hair and a round baby face. He was wearing a grey sweater and a dark overcoat.

Keep Library in Town Say Borough Merchants

A resolution in favor of keeping the Public Library downtown, providing a suitable solution is found to meet parking needs, won approval by those present at a Tuesday morning meeting of Borough Merchants for Princeton.

Leo Arons pointed out that a survey done not long ago indicated that about 60 to 70 percent of those using the Library are also shopping in town.

He also noted that, although Borough people want the Library to stay where it is, there is strong sentiment in the Township and at the shopping center for moving it to the former Epstein's building.

Borough Mayor Marvin Reed said that figures showing it would be less expensive to move the Library to the shopping center than to expand it depend on granting a $3 million credit for the existing building.

"I don't know how many willing buyers want to buy the existing building," he said. "They would still have a parking problem."

Mr. Reed added that there would be a problem even if the Library did not expand, as the Borough would like to see storefronts on the open space between the Library and the first row of retail stores on Witherspoon Street.

Cautioning that there is a great deal that needs to be examined, Mr. Arons told the approximately 20 merchants in attendance that a member of the Regional Planning Board has said that the increase in congestion relating to the Library expansion would hurt business.

Have You Seen This Dog?

A Pine Street resident who was bitten on the thigh by a dog as he was unloading gifts from his car the day after Christmas wants help in trying to locate the dog.

Since then, John Gore, 32, of 12 Pine, has had to undergo tetanus and booster shots and four painful rabies shots at Princeton Medical Center. Two more rabies shots are scheduled. "The shots are almost done. My main concern," said Mr. Gore, "is finding the dog. I don't want anyone else to get hurt, especially children."

He described the dog as a husky-shepherd type, mostly husky, with a white face and a coat half black, half white. It was trailing a red leash.

"I never saw the dog," recalled Mr. Gore. "I was taking gifts from the car when I heard a growl and then he was on my thigh." His father, he said, managed to strike the dog with a club several times before it ran off toward Nassau Street.

A witness sitting in the Carousel Restaurant said the dog had not been tied up; his leash was just wrapped around a parking sign pole. Mr. Gore said this week that no one in the neighborhood has reported seeing the dog. He was advised to undergo the series of rabies shots, "just to be on the safe side."

Anyone who may have seen the dog should get in touch with Mr. Gore, an employee of Nassau St. Seafood, 256 Nassau Street, or notify Borough police.

Everett Garretson stated firmly that a Library without a garage would kill downtown.

The vote to approve the resolution was unanimous.

Zoning Board Approves A New Clothing Store

The Borough Zoning Board of Adjustment gave approval for a clothing store to move into the ground-floor retail space 203-205 Nassau Street. In doing so, the Board reversed the determination of Zoning Officer Frank Slimak that there was a substantial change in the type of use from a former video store to a retail clothing store.

The store, which has not been named, will sell clothing and accessories geared to young people, said Gordon Strauss, attorney for Sanford Zeitler, the building's owner. It is owned by Peter Newcomb, a resident of Woodbridge, who has similar stores in New Brunswick and Florida.

Mr. Newcomb has agreed to do whatever fire protection upgrade may be necessary in order to receive a new certificate of occupancy.

Mr. Zeitler is currently appealing several fire code violations at 203-205 Nassau Street, and penalties assessed because of these violations, to the Mercer County Construction Board of Appeals.

Last fall, he was fined a half million dollars for 32 violations of the fire code found at the building. A reinspection in October showed that ten of the 32 violations had been corrected.

Sexual Assault Is Charge Against Township Man

In an incident still under investigation, Balfour H. Merrill Jr., 41, of Greenbrier Row, has been charged by Township police with sexual assault. Arrested Monday evening, after he came to police headquarters to turn himself in, Merrill was scheduled to be arraigned early this week before Judge Russell W. Annich Jr.

According to Lt. Samuel Bianco, the victim, a 26-year-old Borough resident, came to police headquarters to report that she had been criminally sexually assaulted in a home in the Redding Circle area. Lt. Bianco reported the victim told them she had been picked up by Merrill and taken to the house. Although the alleged rape took place between 11 Saturday evening and 1:30 Sunday morning, the victim did not report the incident until 6:20 Sunday evening.

The victim was not visibly injured in any way and she was not examined, Lt. Bianco said. "She knew the suspect; they had been prior acquaintances," he said.

Detectives Arthur Villaruz and John Petrone Jr. are conducting the investigation.

Leaf Pickup Completion Is Due in the Borough

It's a bit later than usual, but Borough Engineer Carl Peters expects that all leaves will be picked up this week.

Pickup was delayed, largely in the western section, for several reasons, explained Mr. Peters. "The leaves came down later this year," he said. "Normally we pick up pretty solidly in October. This year, they didn't come down until Election Day."

He added that the leaves also came down heavily, creating larger piles. When freezing weather set in, the leaves had to be picked up with a front-end loader.

In the western section, only two cycles were completed before the freeze.

Township Cable Survey Shows Dissatisfaction

A tentative analysis of a cable television survey mailed in September to residents of Princeton Township shows wide dissatisfaction with service provided by C-Tec.

There were 454 responses to the survey, a return rate of more than 25 percent. Although the results have not yet been tabulated by the Township, a tentative analysis based on 127 returns was done for the Joint Cable Television Advisory Committee by Peter Thompson, district technical coordinator for the Princeton Regional School District.

The analysis showed that 70 percent of those tallied by Mr. Thompson are not satisfied with C-Tec. Thirty percent said they were satisfied.

Eighty-five percent said they had experienced trouble with cable in the past six months. One-third needed the services of a C-Tec technician.

Of those tallied, 52 percent said they had watched local-origination cable television. Asked what type of program they would watch on local cable, 68 percent said local news; 15 percent Board of Education meetings; 28 percent local public opinion; six percent senior citizen programming, 17 percent local sports, and 37 percent educational programs.

Hugh Johnston is chairman of the joint committee, which was formed to examine widespread dissatisfaction with C-Tec's programming cuts and rate increases in preparation for franchise renewal next year. He is attempting to enlist volunteers to tally the complete response to the Township survey, said Mr. Thompson. A similar survey is in the planning process in the Borough.

Civil Rights Movement Theme of M.L. King Day

Princeton University will celebrate this year's Martin Luther King Day on Monday, with a series of events whose common theme is the American civil rights movement. The public is welcome to any and all of the events.

Highlighting the day will be a concert-lecture on "Songs of the Civil Rights Movement" by Dr. Bernice Johnson Reagon, the MacArthur-Award winning cultural historian, composer, singer, founder and director of the women's a cappella singing group Sweet Honey in the Rock. Dr. Reagon served as musical consultant for the PBS television series Eyes on the Prize.

The University's King Day planning committee is also sponsoring a film series on the civil rights movement, and it has invited members of the faculty and staff to submit recollections of the movement for publication in a special section of the January 14 Princeton Weekly Bulletin. The committee is also sponsoring an essay contest for area school children.

The Martin Luther King Day program will be held in Richardson Auditorium, starting at 1:30 on Monday, when there will be a panel of citizens reflecting on their experiences with the civil rights movement in Princeton and the winners of the essay contest will be announced. Chaired by Assistant Dean of the College Cecelia Hodges Drewry, the panel will include Connie Campbell, a charter member of the Elizabeth Taylor Byrd Scholarship Fund for black youth; Religion Professor Malcolm Diamond, a founding member of the Princeton Association for Human Rights (PAHR); James Floyd Sr., a founder of PAHR who began a family sponsor program for minority undergraduates; Len Newton, an early leader of the fair housing movement in Princeton; and Edith Savage, the founder of the Mercer County SCLC and a member of New Jersey's Martin Luther King Commission. At 3:15 on Monday there will be a reception to honor the community panel and Dr. Reagon.

Dr. Reagon's program will begin at 4, also in Richardson Auditorium. Dr. Reagon is curator of the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of American History and the founder and former director of the museum's program in African American Culture. She is a specialist in African American oral culture, performing arts and protest traditions. She has published a Smithsonian Collection of Recordings titled "Voices of the Civil Rights Movement, Black American Freedom Songs, 1960-1966."

At 8 p.m. on Monday, a panel of Princeton University alumni will talk about their experiences in the civil rights movement. The panelists will

Record Course Offerings; Adult School's 50th Year

The Princeton Adult School will offer this spring the largest number of classes in its 50-year history.

Among the 87 courses is a new series on business strategy, based on cases from the Harvard Business School, which has been a pioneer in the use of real-life cases to prepare managers and executives for the decisions they will face. The eight-week course will begin February 5. Moderator will be William Robins, president of Media Financial Group of Princeton and currently enrolled in the doctoral program at Harvard Business School.

Another new offering is a theater-going seminar, "Theater-in-the-All-Around: a

Plane Crashes New Year's Day

Neither the pilot nor his passenger were injured New Year's Day when their Cessna 182 plane crashed in a field adjacent to the Princeton Airport.

The two-seat private plane had climbed to 800 feet when it lost power. The pilot, Robert Bury, 54, of Annandale made a 180-degree turn and make a hard landing in a muddy field just off the airport runway. The plane was extensively damaged.

A preliminary report from the National Transportation Safety Board, based in part on an interview of the pilot by the Federal Aviation Administration, stated the plane may have lost power because of ice in its carburetor.

An investigator for the NTSB commented that he doubted if the plane, in heading back toward the airport, would have collided with another plane — even if one had taken off right behind it. The two agencies intend to investigate the pilot's response to his loss of power, see what other options he might have had and determine if he should have acted differently. Officials say it may take up to 90 days to complete a final report.

Gets Maximum Sentence For Second DWI Charge

In Borough court Monday, Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. fined Roger S. Landry, 22, of Montgomery Township $1,145 and sentenced him to 30 days in jail and 30 days community service on a second charge of driving while intoxicated. In addition, Judge Annich revoked his license for two years — all the maximum sentence allowable for a second DWI offense.

Landry admitted that he was intoxicated while driving in an erratic manner last September on Bayard Lane. The car he was operating was registered to a passenger, Kelly Ann Kerr, 20, of Skillman. Police have charged Kerr with allowing someone obviously under the influence to operate a motor vehicle.

Judge Annich stayed Landry's jail and community service sentences, pending the appeal of his first DWI charge. That charge stems from a car crash in 1986 in Montgomery Township in which a 17-year-old passenger, Julius Sestak, was killed. Landry is appealing

Housing Trust Fund Grows

It was the late Mayor Barbara Sigmund's request that, in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to the Borough's Affordable Housing Trust Fund. By this week, the fund had received more than $37,000. Most contributions came from Princeton and the surrounding area, but there were many also from Washington, D.C., New York City, and Louisiana.

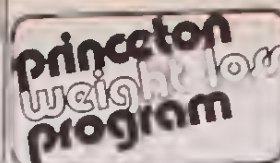

The purpose of the fund is to help, in various ways, to increase the stock of affordable housing in the Borough. This was a special concern of Mrs. Sigmund's during her years as Mayor.

Contributions may be sent to the Princeton Affordable Housing Trust Fund, Borough Hall, One Monument Drive, Princeton 08542.

In traffic court, James J. Sweeney, 19 Murray Place, was fined $315 and lost his license for a year for having no insurance, and fined another $75 for careless driving.

Crisis in Gulf Spurs Gatherings For Protest and Discussion Here

Demonstrations, prayer services and educational discussions will be held in the Princeton area in the next few days in response to the crisis in the Persian Gulf.

Teach Peace, a Princeton University group formed to promote education and discussion on the crisis, will hold events on Monday and Tuesday, marking Martin Luther King Day and the United Nations deadline for Iraq's withdrawal from Kuwait.

From noon to 1:15 Monday, a brown-bag lunch discussion dealing with "Racism, War and the Persian Gulf," will be led by the Rev. Joseph Williamson, dean of the Princeton University Chapel, and Willette Burgie-Gipson, director of Community House. The event, co-sponsored by the Afro-American Studies Program, will be held in Room 20 of Fisher Hall, the new building next to the Woodrow Wilson School.

On Tuesday, the day of the U.N. deadline, there will be a peace rally in the University's Firestone Plaza at 5 p.m., followed by a march to the King Memorial at First Baptist Church. Speakers will include the Rev. Susan Craig of the Wesley-Westminster Chaplaincy and the Rev. William C. Gipson, assistant dean of the University Chapel. The Rev. Michael Nabors of the First Baptist Church will give an address at the conclusion of the march. The rally is co-sponsored by the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament.

To Stay or Leave?

Princeton University Hillel will present a forum Sunday at 4 entitled "Tomorrow: Should We Stay or Should We Go?" examining the different issues involved in the Persian Gulf.

Charles A. Kupchan of Princeton University's Politics Department and Arthur Waskow of the Shalom Institute in Philadelphia will speak. Audience participation is welcome and encouraged.

Princeton Friends Meeting will sponsor a demonstration for peace on Saturday from noon to 1 in Palmer Square. The Friends will carry signs and hand out leaflets offering an alternative to the Bush Administration's policies and promoting a peaceful settlement of the Gulf crisis. They will also gather signatures on a Petition for Peace to be sent to President Bush and Senators Bradley and Lautenberg.

A prayer service for peace will be held Monday evening at 7 by the Princeton Baptist Church, Penns Neck, to which the community is invited. The focus will be on intercession and petition in the Middle East crisis and the service will include brief singing, scripture reading, a litany and extensive prayer. The church is located at the corner of Route 1 and Washington Road.

Anna Freud's Letters Topic of Public Lecture

The Princeton Research Forum will sponsor a public lecture by Mary Weigand Thursday, January 17, at 8, on "Puzzles of Biography: Anna Freud's Letters to Eva Rosenfeld," at the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University.

Mary Weigand, a member of the Center for Independent Study in New Haven and professor emeritus of psychology, Southern Connecticut University, is a co-translator of A Child Analysis with Anna Freud. She met Anna Freud in 1950, and found her to be an unpredictable, even paradoxical personality, sometimes distant, sometimes friendly.

Anna Freud and Eva Rosenfeld were about 30 years old when they started writing to each other. Anna Freud was near the height of her career at the time that her friend was undergoing great personal difficulties. The letters reveal rather girlish and affectionate responses to Rosenfeld's crises during a period in Anna Freud's life that demanded firm responses to British psychoanalysts who were challenging her work. Prof. Weigand's lecture will discuss how these letters open up

Definition of "Family" Is Changed in Ordinance

Borough Council was expected to introduce an ordinance at its meeting scheduled for Tuesday, January 8, which would change the definition of "family" and thus could lead to a resolution of the Opus Dei lawsuit brought against the Borough.

The Nassau Foundation sued the Borough last month, challenging the Zoning Board's determination that its use of Mercer House, 34 Mercer Street, as an Opus Dei Center did not constitute single-family use.

The suit challenged the constitutionality of the Borough ordinance that limits to five the number of unrelated persons allowed to be considered a family.

During the Zoning Board hearing, Opus Dei Attorney Christopher Baker argued that 34 Mercer Street is a single-family house, not a rooming house. He said that members of Opus Dei — a doctrinally conservative worldwide Catholic prelature — function as a family, and cited to the Board a New Jersey Supreme Court decision that held ten unrelated college students were a family.

In the revised ordinance, a family is defined as "one or more persons occupying one dwelling unit as a single, non-profit housekeeping unit, whose relationship is of a permanent, stable and domestic character."

The ordinance states that uses such as non-familial institutional uses, rooming houses, hotels, clubs, fraternities, sororities, transient housing or similar types of housing shall not be considered family uses.

Mr. Baker said the Nassau Foundation would be very happy if the ordinance were passed. He added, "We need to be told we meet the definition. Then the lawsuit is over."

Marksmanship Training For Area Young People

The Citizens Rifle and Revolver Club and the Princeton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association will offer their annual program in basic firearms safety and marksmanship for area youngsters. The program is registered with the National Rifle Association (NRA) and the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, Department of the Army. Classroom instruction and supervised indoor firing will be provided by certified instructors. The program is designed to teach the safe use of firearms, and to promote the development of rifle marksmanship skills. NRA qualification awards and certificates may be earned during the program, and those completing the course will receive an NRA diploma.

The 11-week course will begin with an orientation session on Saturday, January 19, from 10 to 11 for all youngsters who have not attended the program in the past. Attendance at this session is required in order to participate in the program. Sessions are held at the Citizens Club ranges on Princeton-Hightstown Road in West Windsor Township. All equipment, including rifles and ammunition, will be provided.

Anyone between the ages of 11 and 16 may participate, with parental permission. Those interested should call 771-9560 to register. There is no charge.

Haul Exceeds $100,000 at Kingston Antiques

Dorothy H. Oppenheim, the owner of Kingston Antiques, lost antique and one-of-a-kind pieces of jewelry valued at more than $100,000 last week when her safe was forced by robbers, but she may have found something more valuable in return: she has a lot of friends. "I've got my health, I've got good friends. I have a support group not to be believed," she said this week.

"I was surprised at the number of people who came to me," Ms. Oppenheim said. One, from out of town, called her to tell her how upset she was and told her that she had some money in the bank and how she could help her get started again. Another spent three hours going through receipts.

Still, Ms. Oppenheim admitted the burglary — on the last day of her 13th year in business, 12 at her present location at 43 Main Street — was "a real bummer."

The spunky 69-year-old quickly emphasized, however, that "I am still in business — strictly by appointment!" Although most of her pieces were one-of-a-kind and hence difficult to replace, Ms. Oppenheim said that she does have sources that will enable her to replenish her stock. Aside from a few odd pieces, however, she said that all her jewelry will be catalogued and photographed. Customers can shop from photographs... "people who know me and know my tastes."

Ms. Oppenheim placed a value of "well over a hundred thousand dollars" on the more than 500 rings, pearls and diamond antiques that were taken. None were insured.

Insurance had become too expensive, Ms. Oppenheim said. Companies kept adding more and more conditions until her insurance bill amounted to about $15,000. "How can a small business afford it?"

For protection, she said, she installed what she described as a "secure, secure, secure security system that turned out not to be so secure."

Some Pieces Charred

Other pieces that weren't taken were charred by the heat of the torch used to cut into her safe. A diamond bracelet which she valued at $1,500 was blackened and charred but since her prices are 60 percent below store prices, Ms. Oppenheim said it would cost $3,000 anywhere else. Ironically, one piece that was spared was a set of four-leaf clover earrings that were in New York being repaired.

South Brunswick police who are investigating the crime report that the burglar or burglars apparently cut telephone lines and alarm system wires before entering a basement window where Ms. Oppenheim's appointment-preferred shop is located. An acetylene torch was used to open the "fireproof safe." No fingerprints were found in the shop, which was ransacked. "They had to be pros," offered Ms. Oppenheim.

The robbery is believed to have occurred Sunday, December 30. Police released a sketch of a suspect, a white woman about 30-years-old with long blonde hair who visited the shop about a week before the burglary, posing as a customer. Ptl. Hugh McNeil, who is investigating, said that police believe the suspect was casing the store.

After looking at some gold chains, the suspect left, telling Ms. Oppenheim that she was going to the bank to get some money to buy a necklace. She did not return.

Ms. Oppenheim told police that the suspect had told her that she had been referred to her shop by another jewelry store. Later, she checked with the store and was told they had not made any Kingston Antiques referrals.

Aside from an attempt by some kids to enter her place about five years ago, this was the first time in her 13 years in business that she had been robbed, Ms. Oppenheim said.

She remains undeterred by the incident. "I will be back in business. Make an appointment."

ROBBERY SUSPECT: This is a police sketch of a customer who, police feel, may have been casing the shop of Kingston Antiques which was robbed last week.

Evening of Storytelling At Arts Council Building

The Arts Council will present "An Evening of Stories with Greta Sander" on Thursday at 8.

Award for PCH Director

Marcy Crimmins, 82 Linden Lane, executive director of Princeton Community Housing's Griggs Farm development, is a recipient of The Prudential Foundation's Leadership Award, given at the beginning of each year to agencies that, in the view of the Foundation staff, excel in their mission.

According to the Foundation, the Awards cite those "who have a commitment to improving their community, who motivate, direct and set standards for the performance of others."

The Prudential Foundation presents $3,000 to the agency in the name of the recipients of the award. Recipients may use the money for the agency as they see fit.

The letter informing Ms. Crimmins of her award refers to "the outstanding contributions you and your organization have made to the public good."

Ms. Sander, who tells international folktales, has been a resident of Princeton for almost 30 years. After working as a scientist for many years in the departments of biology and bio-chemistry at Princeton University, she shifted the focus of her work to the study of folklore and storytelling. She is also a docent at the Princeton University Art Museum where she has shared stories to help teach young people what is behind the art they're viewing.

The evening is designed for adults and children age eight and above.

Personnel Notes

A new information company that can swiftly access and deliver specialized documents and publications from a wide variety of governmental and private sources has been created by Sally Davidson, of Princeton.

Called DocuServ, its clients pay a premium for the rapid retrieval of the data they need from the United States Congress, regulatory agencies, universities, trade associations, publishers, foreign embassies, the United Nations, and research institutes.

"We will strive to deliver any document, book or report into the hands of our clients anywhere in the world in as few as 72 hours," said Ms. Davidson. She noted that persons can either write individually to five or ten places, like GPO or the Commerce Department or a House Agricultural Subcommittee, for information — or you send her one order. "If you deal with us you will get a status report in 48 hours and your document in three to ten working days," she said.

Ms. Davidson holds a B.A. in Asian philosophy and an M.A.

Township Mayor

recently released Morton Hoffman report — which assumed no changes in practice or plans from those in existence on September 1 — Mayor Woodbridge outlined several steps for Township Committee in keeping with the consultant's recommendation that it take a more active role in the Griggs Farm project.

He said he would ask Committee to approve the hiring of an independent accounting firm to review the financial condition of Griggs Farm and provide Committee with "the information and financial controls we need to take direct action now and on a monthly basis."

He also said he planned to meet "within the month" with the court-appointed master in an effort to get the Township's assigned Mt. Laurel obligation of 275 affordable units reduced or delayed. "The state must assume some responsibility for our predicament," Mayor Woodbridge said. "This town would never have entered into such an ambitious undertaking without a court-imposed axe hanging over our head." The Griggs Farm development is intended to contribute 140 of the 275 units mandated by the court.

Mayor Woodbridge also said he would appoint a tax and finance advisory committee composed of citizens "who will hold open public meetings to help us plot an efficient course of action with regard to taxes and finances in general and Griggs Farm in particular." He said he would "explore and develop programs such as lease purchase to help a broader spectrum of local employees including police, teachers, firemen and the like purchase units at Griggs Farm."

Finally, he reported that the Township Administrator has been requested to draft specifications along the lines suggested by the Morton Hoffman report preparatory to hiring a developer/manager "to work with and for the Township on the Griggs Farm project."

Mayor Richard Woodbridge Facing Several Challenges

Four Challenges

Turning to other "challenges and opportunities" facing the Township, Mayor Woodbridge mentioned four: the deer problem, cable TV, the sister city relationship with Pettoranello, Italy, and taxes, in that order. He said he would ask Township Committee to approve "a controlled humane hunt" in the coming year to help solve the deer problem. "I hope in 1991 the buck will stop in Township Hall," he quipped.

Mayor Woodbridge paid particular attention to the effects of a 1986 act of Congress which "deregulated" cable TV but which he said sharply restricts the freedom of municipalities to bargain with cable TV operators for lower rates or better programming choices when negotiating franchise renewals. "That's not deregulation," Mr. Woodbridge stated. "That's a federally protected license to steal."

In anticipation of the visit of officials from Pettoranello, he said he would set up a welcoming committee composed of elected officials and citizens so that "the exchange will be productive and satisfying. It would be wonderful if the initial visit could blossom into a relationship similar to the one that the Borough enjoys with its sister city of Colmar, France," Mayor Woodbridge said.

On the topic of taxes, Mr. Woodbridge said that the voice of the taxpayers was clear throughout New Jersey and in the Township at the last election: "get taxes under control." Noting that the Quality of Education Act places a "discriminatory and unfair" burden on 150 communities in this state, including the Township, he said Princeton must "put pressure on all elected officials in the state to return the burden of teachers' benefits back to the state where it has always been and clearly belongs."

Afterward, Committeewoman Phyllis Marchand told reporters she was disappointed that the mayor's speech did not mention the possibility or desirability of consolidation of Borough and Township.

Committee Assignments

In making Township Committee Departmental Assignments, Mayor Woodbridge has assigned himself the Planning Board, Engineering and Public Works and the Local Assistance Board and will be Fire Commissioner for the Township.

Deputy Mayor Ellen F. Souter will also sit on the Planning Board, will be Committee liaison to the Environmental Commission and have responsibility for administration, tax and finance. Mr. Porter was assigned the biggest portfolio of any of the five members of Committee; he will be Police Commissioner and be Committee liaison to the Housing Board, the Commission on Aging, the Civil Rights Commission, the Recreation Board and the Traffic Safety Commission.

Committeewoman Phyllis L. Marchand has been assigned the Historic Preservation Commission, the Joint Public Library and the Intergovernmental Drug Committee, and will be School Board liaison. Committeeman Leonard Godfrey's responsibilities include the Sewer Operating Committee, the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, the Flood Control Committee, Cable TV Advisory Committee and the Board of Health.

Hans Sander, longtime member and former chairman of the Regional Planning Board who was not re-appointed by last year's Democratic Administration to the board, was given a four-year term on the Zoning Board. A. Perry Morgan and Junius J. Bleiman were reappointed to two-year terms as alternates.

Dr. Quentin E. Lyle, an orthodontist and longtime Princeton resident, was appointed to a three-year term on the Board of Health; Annette Tobia, who had been appointed by former Mayor Kate Litvack to fill an unexpired term, was given a three-year term of her own.

Wanda Gunning was reappointed to a four-year term on the Historic Preservation Commission, and Jewel Moran a two-year term as an alternate. Thomas M. Poole joins the Housing Board for a four-year term. Helen Fairbanks was given another four-year term on the Local Assistance Board and Alan R. Goodheart a five-year term on the Shade Tree Commission.

Barbara S. Cohen and Pauline Brown were named to the Joint Commission on Aging and the Joint Commission on Civil Rights, respectively, each serving a three-year term. Charles Bardwell was reappointed and Jeffrey Golomb appointed to the Joint Fire Commission for three years. John F. Bales will continue on the Library Board of Trustees for another five years, and J.B. Smith on the Princeton Sewer Operating Committee.

Edward J. Cohen was named to the Site Plan Advisory Board for a four-year term, and Ellen Levine was reappointed as an alternate for two years. Lucius Wilmerding will continue on the Sidewalks and Bikeways Committee for three years.

Eugene P. Wigner, Princeton emeritus professor of physics and a pioneer in the field of nuclear power, has received the American Nuclear Society's inaugural Eugene P. Wigner Reactor Physicist Award.

Prof. Wigner, a native of Hungary who won a Nobel Prize in 1963, is credited with many of the theories and technological breakthroughs that laid the foundation for today's nuclear power industry. The award was presented by Dimitrios Cokinos, head of the American Nuclear Society that developed the award and a staff scientist at the Brookhaven National Laboratory in Upton, N.Y., and ANS vice president Robert Long in a ceremony in the Jadwin Physics Building on the Princeton campus.

Prof. Wigner emigrated to the U.S. and joined the Princeton Faculty in 1930. In the late '30s, Wigner, Albert Einstein and other physicists convinced the U.S. government of the need for an atomic bomb project, and in the 1940s Prof. Wigner was a key member of the group that developed the atomic bomb. He spent the rest of his career working to harness the power of the atom for peaceful purposes.

Kenneth M. Setton, professor emeritus in the School of Historical Studies of the Institute for Advanced Study, has received the John Frederick Lewis Award of the American Philosophical Society. The honor recognizes the best book published by the Society in a given year. The APS, founded by Benjamin Franklin and approaching its 250th year, is the country's oldest learned society.

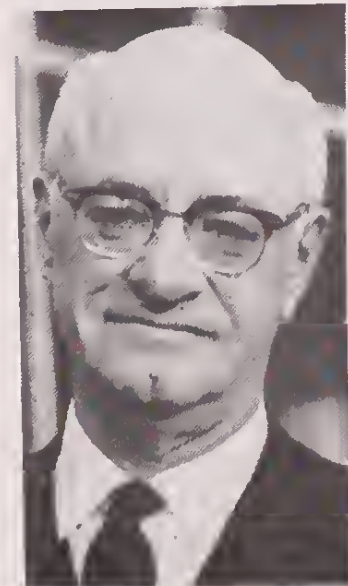

The award, Prof. Setton's third John Frederick Lewis Award, was given for his book Venice, Austria, and the Turks in the Seventeenth Century, which analyzes diplomatic and military events which ultimately led to the end of the so-called Venetian Empire in 1718. Among the stories he recounts is the Venetian occupation of Athens and the disastrous destruction of the Parthenon. The book relies upon extensive unpublished materials in the Venetian Archives and the Biblioteca Nazionale Marciana.

Prof. Setton has received international recognition for medieval study through awards from scholarly and other organizations in France, Spain, Greece and the United States. In 1980 he received the Haskins Medal from the Medieval Academy.

He is author of numerous books, including Catalan Domination of Athens, Europe and the Levant in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, Athens in the Middle Ages and the multi-volume The Papacy and the Levant. He received the American Historical Association 1990 Award for Scholarly Distinction.

Prof. Setton joined the Faculty of the Institute in 1968 and became a professor emeritus in 1984.

Phyllis Marchand, deputy mayor of Princeton Township, was elected to the position of third vice president of the New Jersey League of Municipalities at its convention in Atlantic City. A New Book by James McPherson Analyzes Lincoln and the Civil War

Though moderate by nature, Abraham Lincoln was forced by history to become a revolutionary who led the country through its second radical transformation. Princeton University Professor James McPherson, of Randall Road, contends in a new book of essays on Lincoln and the Civil War.

Prof. McPherson, who won a Pulitzer Prize with his 1988 Civil War history Battle Cry of Freedom, calls the new book his "spin" on the meaning of the war between the states and the conduct and character of the man who led the nation through it. The collection of seven essays began reaching bookstores this month, though its official publication date will be February 12, Lincoln's birthday.

Post-revisionists since the 1960s have doubted the revolutionary qualities of the Civil War, claiming the United States remains a flawed, racist society. Abraham Lincoln and the Second American Revolution challenges that notion. Prof. McPherson does not contend that blacks have won the struggle for full participation in mainstream American life. But that, he says, does not diminish the radical overturning of American society between the beginning and end of the war. "It really was a revolution in the sense that, in 1863, four million blacks were slaves, and by 1868 they had equal rights under the Constitution and could vote," he says. "That revolution didn't entirely stick, but the counterrevolution that followed still left a lot of major changes in place."

Prof. McPherson notes, too, the Civil War's jarring overhaul of the country's economy and political makeup. A true nation was forged out of a loose federal republic. Southern domination of political affairs in Washington came to an abrupt end. By repudiating the economic ideology of the "planter class," he says, the war propelled into domination the North's "competitive democratic free-labor capitalism."

It was Lincoln, with his tenacious devotion to preserving the union and masterful ability to communicate the cause, who saw it through. Prof. McPherson says the conservative-natured president from Illinois did not entirely choose the course of revolution and his role as revolutionary. Despite his moral opposition to slavery, he had long been resigned to its gradual shrinking back. When the conflict broke out in 1861, he did not count emancipation among his war aims.

But it became clear to the "reluctant revolutionary," Prof. McPherson says, that emancipation would be a vital tool in achieving victory. The means became an end, and a war to put out the South's rebellion became an even larger struggle to reshape the nation. Though Lincoln claimed events dictated to him, McPherson says the Republican president, in astutely grasping the big picture before him, skillfully steered those supposedly uncontrollable events.

The seeds of Prof. McPherson's new book were several lectures he gave in recent years on various aspects of the war and war president. To complete Abraham Lincoln and the Second American Revolution, he recast the lectures and wrote a few additional essays.

New McCarter Director To Direct Williams' Play

McCarter Theatre will present Tennessee Williams' classic, The Glass Menagerie, featuring Shirley Knight, Judy Kuhn, Dylan McDermott and Jeff Weatherford. Directed by Emily Mann, the play will run January 18 through February 3, with previews January 15 through 17.

In selecting this play to open her inaugural season as artistic director of McCarter Theatre, Ms. Mann intends to celebrate one of America's greatest voices, Tennessee Williams.

The design team Ms. Mann has brought together includes Ming Cho Lee, who has designed the set; Jennifer von Mayrhauser, costumes; Robert Wierzel, lights; and Mel Marvin, an original score.

Shirley Knight will perform the role of Amanda Wingfield. Ms. Knight made her Broadway debut in 1964 in the Actors' Studio production of The Three Sisters with Kim Stanley and Geraldine Page. Since then, she has become known for her stage, television and film work which has earned her numerous awards, including a Tony for Kennedy's Children.

Ms. Knight has had two plays and a screenplay written specifically for her. These include A Lively Sunday far Creve Coeur by Tennessee Williams, Landscape of the Body, by John Guare, and The Rain People, a screenplay by Francis Ford Coppola.

Ms. Knight's film credits include The Dark at the top of the Stairs, Sweet Bird of Youth, and Dutchman, for which she won the Venice Film Festival Golden Lion Award, the London Critics' Award and special award at the Cannes Film Festival. On television, Ms. Knight has been seen in her Emmy-Award winning role of Hope's mother in thirty-something. Ms. Knight last appeared at McCarter in the the-

Dylan McDermott plays Tom. Mr. McDermott is most noted for his role as Jackson in the 1989 film Steel Dawn. His other film credits include Hamburger Hill, Hardware, Blue Iguana, Twister and Where Sleeping Dads Lie, due for release in 1991. Mr. McDermott made his professional theater debut in The Seagull with Joanne Woodward. He made his Broadway debut in the role of Selridge in Neil Simon's Biloxi Blues.

Judy Kuhn, best known for her work in musical theater, will create the role of Laura. Ms. Kuhn has starred in numerous Broadway productions, including Chess, Les Miserables and Rags.

Ms. Kuhn spent last season in London's West End starring in a stage version of Metropolis.

Jeff Weatherford plays Jim O'Connor, the Gentleman Caller. Mr. Weatherford's stage credits include The Tenth of Crime, The Three Sisters and Six Characters in Search of an Author. He has also appeared on the daytime drama, Another World.

Preceding the opening of each theater series production, McCarter Associates sponsors "Dialogue on Drama," an opportunity to meet the artists and designers associated with the upcoming play.

Managing Director Resigns at McCarter

John Herochik, managing director of McCarter Theatre, has resigned after nine years with the theater, the last three in his present post.

William P. Wingate, an arts management consultant and producer, has been appointed interim executive director while a search for a permanent managing director is undertaken. Mr. Herochik will remain available as a consultant to the theater through the end of January.

According to Ruth Wilson, president of the McCarter board of trustees, Mr. Herochik's letter of resignation, submitted last Thursday, voiced strong support for Emily Mann, McCarter's new artistic director, but indicated that he felt it was time "to move on." McCarter is in the midst of construction to add new lobby, rehearsal and office space at either side of the theater, which, as Mrs. Wilson noted, is "tough on everyone [at the theater] and a particular burden on John, who not only has had to deal with the construction but also manage a very complex performing arts center."

She said that Mr. Herochik did the theater "a kindness" by timing his resignation to coincide with the beginning of the planning process for the 1991-92 season. She said she expected a relatively swift search process of nine to 12 months for his

'Glass Menagerie' Events

McCarter Theatre will present special events surrounding the production of Tennessee Williams' The Glass Menagerie.

A "sneak preview" performance on Wednesday, January 16, at 8, followed by a party in McCarter's lobby, is being coordinated by McCarter Encore!, a branch of McCarter Associates designed for young people from 25 to 45 who enjoy going to the theater, socializing and meeting new people.

In an effort to increase accessibility for disabled patrons, McCarter is offering audio description services for blind and/or visually impaired audience members. Audio described performances for The Glass Menagerie are Friday, February 1, at 8 and Sunday, February 3, at 2. Through a small transistor, visually impaired persons can hear a concise and objective description of the action on stage.

An hour and a half before described performances, a "sensory seminar" is offered where patrons may touch props, costumes and set pieces to have a full theatrical experience.

For more information, call McCarter's administrative offices at 683-9100 from 10 to 6 Monday through Friday. For ticket information, call the McCarter box office at 683-8000, Monday through Saturday, 9 to 6.

successor — far shorter than the 18-month search for Ms. Mann.

As managing director Mr. Herochik has been responsible for the administrative and financial aspects of the theater, management of its physical plant, and advocacy on behalf of the theater before public and private funding agencies. Before becoming managing director three years ago, when Allison Harris resigned at the end of the first major renovation project, Mr. Herochik served for six years as McCarter's production manager.

Before coming to McCarter he worked for eight years as co-founder and managing director of the George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick.

"We are extremely grateful to John for his devoted service and his many contributions to McCarter," Mrs. Wilson said in a prepared statement. "This past year he helped to provide leadership for arts organizations throughout New Jersey during difficult fiscal times, and he saw us through the transition in artistic directors from Nagle Jackson to Emily Mann."

"Now he deserves an opportunity to pursue other challenges, and we wish him every success." Mr. Wingate, who consulted for McCarter in the fall, is a former business manager of the Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis who served for 13 years as managing director and then executive managing director of the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles.

Theatre Guild Auditions Set at Arts Council Site

The Theatre Guild of New Jersey will hold open auditions on Sunday from 2 to 5 and Thursday, January 17, from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Arts Council building, 102 Witherspoon Street.

Directors Ruth Markoe and Sharone Stacy will audition for three Theatre Guild productions for 1991. They are Bernard Slade's Romantic Comedy, The Jewish Wife by Bertold Brecht and The Pushcart

Peddlers by Murray Schesgal. Romantic Comedy runs for 14 performances at four locations.

Pushcart Peddlers and The Jewish Wife will be performed at the Jewish Community Center in Ewing Township on February 10 and will have several other performances at different locations in the Delaware Valley.

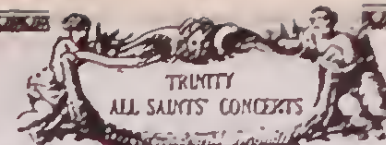

Male and female actors ranging in age from 20 to 40 are needed. Resumes are also being accepted for James Lapine's family comedy, Table Setting, scheduled for July at a location to be announced along with the rest of the summer season. Rehearsals begin for Romantic Comedy in February.

No appointment is needed for auditions. For further information call 586-1774.

series with two performances by the Paul Taylor Dance Company on Monday and Tuesday, January 21 and 22, at 8.

For almost 40 years, Paul Taylor and his company have been a dominant force in American dance. With Martha Graham and Merce Cunningham, Mr. Taylor is one of the three seminal figures in the evolution of modern dance in this century, and is known for his fluency and invention.

The dance series will continue February 18 through 20 with the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre at 8. At the time of his death last year, Mr. Ailey had carved a unique niche for himself in the annals of American dance as a man who made both himself and his company an institution. Now under the direction of Judith Jamison, a principal dancer with the company for 15 years and choreographer in her own right, the Ailey dancers combine modern, jazz and classical styles into a unique form of dance which reflects the cultural diversity of this country.

McCarte welcomes a new dance company to its stage March 15 and 16 at 8 when BalletMet from Columbus, Ohio, makes its first appearance in New Jersey. Founded in 1974, BalletMet has become a major dance force in the Midwest and is rapidly acquiring a national reputation. This troupe of 24 dancers is one of the few American classical companies of its size to be licensed to perform several Balanchine classics.

Series 3-D

In its second year, Series 3-D, New Dimensions in Dance, will present three evenings of innovative dance performed by artists who are shaking the foundations of the dance world. The Merce Cunningham Dance Company will begin the series on March 6. Cunningham has altered audiences' perception of what constitutes a dance performance by exploring previously inconceivable methods of putting movement together.

Hubbard Street Dance Company of Chicago will make its McCarte debut on May 6. Founded in 1977 by former Broadway dancer/choreographer Lou Conte, the company has grown from a four-woman troupe to 16 dancers.

David Parsons, a new young choreographer, will return to McCarte with his own eight-member dance troupe on June 10 at 8 p.m.

Subscriptions and single tickets are now on sale for both Dance at McCarte and Series 3-D. For reservations and further information, call McCarte Theatre's box office at 683-8000, or stop by the box office located in the trailer opposite the entrance to the theater at 91 University Place. The box office is open Monday through Saturday, 9 to 6.

Blues Traveler Will Play in Dillon In Benefit Concert for PHS Choir

The Blues Traveler, a popular rock group whose members were born and bred in Princeton, is scheduled to perform a benefit concert Saturday, January 18, at 8 p.m. in Princeton University's Dillon Gym.

Members of the group — whose music is described as "funky, blues-infected jazz and rock" — have achieved critical acclaim throughout the United States as recording artists and live performers.

The members of Blues Traveler — Bobby Sheehan (bass player), Chan Kinchla (lead guitarist), John Popper (lead singer, composer, harpist) and Brendan Hill (drummer) — are all graduates of Princeton High School, where they formed the band in 1986. The musicians, some of whom are alumni of the PHS Choir, agreed to do the concert as a fundraiser for the Choir's spring concert tour in Europe.

Visitors are welcome; a $4 admission fee includes refreshments and the use of a choral score. Students and nonparticipants are admitted free of charge.

The monthly meetings of the Society are attended by an average of 120 singers and an orchestra of 30. The organization is ideal for the individual who enjoys making music but cannot give time to rehearsing for a performance.

Founded in 1935, the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs holds monthly readings of choral masterworks from October through April. The remaining sessions in the 1990-1991 season include works by Gilbert & Sullivan, Bach, and Handel.

For additional information, call J. Rogers Woolston, president, at 921-2478.

others, as well as his original compositions.

Equally gifted as a composer, Mr. Kenny plays and records his own material and has had many of his more than 90 compositions performed and recorded by the greats in jazz.

Tickets are $15 each. Proceeds of the concert will go to the Steinway Society's scholarship program. For reservations, call the Richardson box office at 258-5000.

Christmas Decorations Do Not Belong in Library

To the Editor of Town Topics: Ms. Noel Mann's comments in his recent letter (published Wednesday, December 26) to the Editor of TOWN TOPICS were surprising in that she does not seem to truly understand that our country has no state religion. In fact, we have a constitutional amendment prohibiting governmental support or obstruction of any religion. The fact that she is so attached to her religion and its seasonal decorations is to be praised. There are, however, those of us in the community who feel it inappropriate for decorations of a particular religion to be displayed at a public facility such as the Princeton Public Library.

The President of the United States is wrong to use taxpayers' money to place Christmas decorations in public places; the Borough of Princeton is also wrong to allow Christmas decorations to be displayed at various public places, such as on signs and in buildings owned by the local government.

Decorations of this type belong in Ms. Mann's home or in his church and in the home or church of anyone else who desires to place them there. They should be paid for and displayed by those who desire these decorations in their private homes or churches. Placing the decorations of a particular religion in a secular facility, where they certainly do not belong, is highly inappropriate, and is counterproductive to the feelings of happiness and joy which these symbols are meant to create.

Such symbols should, therefore, be permanently removed from all public places, and not receive public funding. Perhaps that will happen next year. I certainly hope so.

Shopping Center Library Provides Access for All

To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is the text of a letter we have sent to the Board of Trustees of the Princeton Public Library:

We hope the Board of Trustees of the Princeton Public Library will not be unduly swayed by the organized opposition to moving the Library to a better location. It appears that those residing in its proximity have had a con-

Books Over Wreaths

Vote of Most Readers To the Editor, Town Topics: I would wager a bet that 99% of readers of this paper would vote for books over wreaths in the controversy brought up by Ms. Mann. Hurrah for Ms. Thresher to purchase 30 books which will give many hours and days of "gifts" to the people of this community!!

ELEANOR W. KUSER
175 Lambert Drive

similar arguments for retaining and expanding in the present location. And no timely solution is offered for the Library or the businesses which compete for limited parking space. Increased spaces available for customers might more than compensate the business district for loss of the Library.

Witness the item headed Legal Moves in the December 19 issue of U.S. 1 describing the move of two legal firms from Nassau Street, one to State Road and one to Canal Pointe Road. "The parking was a problem... a common theme of professionals relocating from downtown Princeton."

Where were the Borough voters who could have pressed Borough Council to develop strong Public Library? We do not recall any petitions or letters to the editor warning that lack of parking was jeopardizing the Library. Since the Township budget must supply double what the Borough does for the Library expenses, including expansion, it's hardly surprising that many residents want better access. Nor is it acceptable that primarily Township residents must pay to the Borough a $9 daily parking fee for access to their "free" Public Library, and sometimes pay a heavy "overtime parking" fine if they fail to interrupt their library work at 6 p.m. and go outside to pay the parking fee.

Some letter writers defend the present location as being in closer walking distance for senior citizens. Certainly not for residents of Spruce Circle, Redding Terrace of Princeton Community Village, nor for many who live in houses in the Jefferson-Walnut-Ewing area. (Indeed, for Elm Court it is 6,000 feet versus 9,500 feet, but neither is really feasible.)

For a generation, children have crossed Harrison Street to get to the Princeton Shopping Center. We agree that better pedestrian access to the Shopping Center is needed and should be part of any redesign, but it is not a sufficient reason to drop consideration of the Epstein building for library purposes.

For a generation, children have crossed Harrison Street to get to the Princeton Shopping Center. We agree that better pedestrian access to the Shopping Center is needed and should be part of any redesign, but it is not a sufficient reason to drop consideration of the Epstein building for library purposes.

Thank You to All Those Who Made Town Sparkle

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Only once in a blue moon are there brilliant stars not only in the sky but on the streets and stages of Princeton.

We would like to thank the Borough Council members, the Borough Police Department, the Fire Department, Princeton University and the many individuals, organizations, businesses and corporations who assisted with the Arts Council of Princeton's Fifth Annual New Year's Celebration — Current Calls '90...

You made the town sparkle!

Youth Fund Has Raised 75 Percent of 1991 Goal

To the Editor of Town Topics:
On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Princeton Youth Fund, I thank the Princeton community members who have already answered our appeal for funds. A special thank you goes to the J. Seward Johnson, Sr. Charitable Trust for a gift of $10,000. That is the largest gift to the Princeton Youth Fund in recent history. It is in keeping with the generous and charitable nature of the late benefactor, Mr. J. Seward Johnson, Sr.

That $10,000 along with the many $25, $50, $100 and $200 gifts from individuals will allow us to make grants in turn to many service organizations for programs for Princeton youth. These gifts put us within 75% of our goal for 1991. The gift from the J. Seward Johnson, Sr. Charitable Trust will allow us to consider making more grants or larger ones.

We and the youth of Princeton are very appreciative of the generosity of the good folk who support the Princeton Youth Fund. Anyone else who would like to join the ranks of donors may do so by sending a check to P.O. Box 1240, Princeton, N.J. 08542.

Epstein's Library Site Better for Most Residents

To the Editor of Town Topics:
We were Princeton Township residents who supported the construction of the Princeton Public Library at its current location. We were convinced, after hearing expert testimony about the need for a "downtown" location, that it would be better than the as-yet undeveloped Community Park, a location which had considerable Township support as the geographic center of the two Princetons.

Since then the parking situation has drastically deteriorated, yet we hear

Museum Gallery Talks Scheduled to Resume

Gallery talks at The Princeton University Art Museum will resume on Friday with an introduction to "The Early Kandinsky," by Laverne George, former museum docent. The series, focusing on work from the collections and special exhibitions, will continue through the middle of May.

The free 30-minute talks, presented by museum staff, docents, University faculty graduate students and invited guests, are given every Friday at 12:30 and repeated on Sundays at 3, with the exception of March 22, 24, 29 and 31.

The opening program will focus on Kandinsky's little-known early work: rare interpretive landscapes that offer dramatic contrast with the nonobjective paintings for which the artist is best known. "People are often surprised by Kandinsky's first steps into the world of art," said Mrs. George. "The more realistic paintings from his early years show us a remarkably different approach from the images most people associate with this artist."

A puzzling and possibly irreverent version of the Crucifixion by a Russian realist painter will be the subject of a talk by Docent Anne Florey on January 18 and 20. Golgotha was painted by Ilya Repin — a much-acclaimed artist in the Soviet Union — shortly after the Bolshevik Revolution. It shows an empty crucifix in a symbolic setting that Mrs. Florey describes as "sending mixed messages."

Future gallery talks include "Heironymous Bosch, Christ Before Pilate", by Professor Emeritus Robert Koch on January 25 and 27; and "Benjamin West and His American Students," by Docent Jacqueline Meisel on February 1 and 3.

The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 to 5, and Sunday from 1 to 5.

Right Side of the Brain Focus of Drawing Course

Artist Kathleen Lash will teach a drawing course at both the Unitarian Church and the Arts Council beginning January 22. This beginning drawing course is based on a teaching method developed by Dr. Betty Edwards, author of Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain. It is designed specifically for people who want to learn how to draw, but who feel they have little or no talent. Participants are taught how to let go of the fears and anxieties they may associate with drawing.

ON EXHIBIT: This untitled piece by Tom Galbraith, of mahogany and bent antique glass, is one of the ideograms on display at Princeton Day School's Anne Reid Gallery from January 14 to February 15.

By using a variety of still-life objects, interiors and portraits, students will be taught to go beyond "stick figure" drawing ability and develop skills that will eventually enable them to create works of art.

No previous experience in art or drawing is necessary.

The cost of the eight-week course is $155, plus a $30 materials fee. Each class is limited to eight adults. For more information, call Kathleen Lash at (201) 297-8038.

Exhibits

An environmental physicist who 21 years ago abandoned problems associated with rain and radiation for painting and sculpture will exhibit 19 pieces at Princeton Day School's Anne Reid Gallery.

"Ideograms: Mixed-Media Installations by Tom Galbraith," will be on display from January 14 to February 15. The public is invited to a preview reception on Sunday, from 5 to 8.

Mr. Galbraith left General Electric in 1969 to take up a full-time career in art, first developing his painting techniques in oil on canvas and wood, then experimenting with less traditional materials.

Still creating both traditional and innovative art, he combines two personas in his works. The physicist looks for the ways in which materials affect each other, the ways to make objects last, and the ways to achieve various effects. The artist experiments with materials of all kinds.

Mr. Galbraith may use metallic and house paint on Styrofoam or insulation material used for construction; glass for sculpture that lights up at night, which he paints in brilliantly colored configurations and fires to survive outdoors; plywood and brushed aluminum or formica, which he paints in oils; or shaped canvases, for example, a saddle-shaped, hyperbolic paraboloid applied with metallic paint.

The gallery is open weekdays from 9 to 4 and weekends by appointment.

The Norbert Considine Gallery at Stuart Country Day School will host a wine and cheese reception on Friday from 5 to 7 p.m. The public is invited to meet the two artists whose works are being displayed at the gallery.

MAKING A SHEET OF PAPER are, from left, Princeton artists Jane Eccles and Marie Sturken. Their work will be on display at the Norbert Considine Gallery at Stuart Country Day School from Friday through February 8.

its appearance Friday gives added lustre to the first home game. The Elis have all five starters back from a 19-7 quintet a year ago, their best record in more than 40 years. Their 10-4 Ivy mark was just a game behind Princeton's 11-3.

Players to watch are first-team all-Ivy selection senior forward Dean Campbell, and junior guard Ed Peterson, a second-team choice.

Something to ponder is why with all that returning talent, the Bulldogs have had such a mediocre campaign so far. The team stands no better than 5-5 at the moment, and the competition has been anything but awesome. Two losses came against strong foes like Stanford (61-59) and Connecticut (49-48), but others have been at the hands of Bucknell and Wagner. After Christmas the Elis were blown away by Fairleigh Dickinson by more than 20 points, 71-50.

They rebounded with a 60-52 triumph over Fairfield a week ago, and knocked off Colgate, 61-49, last Saturday. Those are hardly the kinds of opponents that will prepare Yale for 40 minutes against Princeton.

The rest of the Ivies are giving no notice in their nonleague games that they are ready to make a serious move against Princeton. Only one, Cornell, has a winning record to date, and just barely.

The Big Red is 6-4, but was a loser in its last two. Last Thursday it was humiliated, 108-64, on its own court by North Carolina, and dropped a game on the road, 84-78, to UNC-Greensboro on Saturday.

Cornell Could Challenge

The Ithacans, with four returning starters, are expected to challenge for the title also, especially if they can learn to win on the road. Cornell was 0-7 in league contests away from home last year.

Penn, no better than 2-7 through last weekend, plays the toughest outside schedule in the league. The Quakers sorely miss their big center, Hassan Duncombe and his 19.1 ppg, who took this year off to concentrate on his studies. They will be tough in the Palestra, but don't figure to be in the hunt this winter.

Brown, Harvard, Dartmouth, and Columbia can be consigned to also-ran status in that order. The Crimson is just 3-9, but two of those victories have come against Dartmouth (3-7), giving it a 2-0 Ivy mark. However, it has lost first-team all-Ivy senior guard Ralph James with a shoulder injury for an indefinite period. The Big Green welcomes the return of James Blackwell, who has recovered from a knee injury that sidelined him most of last season. The question is, who will help Blackwell?

Columbia, a winner of just two of its first 10 games, has five starters back from last year's 4-22 squad. If they're lucky the Lions might improve to somewhere around 8-18. Brown, at 4-6, has showed a little spunk beating Leigh and Lafayette, and with four starters returning, including Belle Mead's Rick Lloyd, could finish in the first division.

Princeton is expected to have everybody ready to go Friday night. George Leftwich is recuperating from an ankle sprain suffered in the loss to Santa Clara, and Kit Mueller's pulled groin muscle has healed.

Carril must make a decision on whether to start Matt Eastwick or Chris Marquardt at forward. Marquardt, the better shooter, is effective coming off the bench, but needs time to rest his slim 6'8 frame. Thus, Carril is reluctant to start him, because Eastwick doesn't provide the same impact coming off the bench.

Whoever is on the floor for the Tigers, you can be sure Carril will have worked long and hard this week to make certain there is no repeat of the collapse against Santa Clara.

Tiger Hockey Season: It's Now a Disaster

There was promise at the beginning, disappointment later on, and now the 1990-91 Princeton hockey season has unraveled into a disaster. To paraphrase Yogi Berra, it's only half over, but it's over.

Losing to both Yale and Brown on the road last weekend, the Tigers have ended the first half of their ECAC season with six consecutive losses, and a 3-8 mark. Overall, they are 4-11 and headed for a dismal finish.

The 6-3 Yale loss was hardly unexpected. Playing their best hockey in several years, the Elis could finish far up the ECAC ladder. However, the 6-1 defeat at Brown was appalling. The Orange and Black not only was beaten badly by the 2-9-2 Bruins, but looked absolutely horrendous in the process.

Sloppy and listless play at both ends plus numerous stupid penalties gave a weak Brown team this one on a silver platter. Princeton has gone from the least penalized ECAC team a year ago, to the most penalized this winter.

The return round of league games will begin this weekend in Baker Rink, with Old Nassau set to face Cornell Friday night and Colgate on Saturday. It lost to both on the road at the start of the season in November.

Unless there is a miracle worker in Baker Friday night, the Big Red, currently one point out of first place, will complete a season sweep. Saturday night will match the Tigers against an opponent playing much like themselves. After reaching the NCAA finals a year ago, Colgate has fallen on hard times, and is tied with Princeton for ninth place. They won when the two teams met in November.

The following Tuesday in Baker (January 15) the Orange and Black will get another crack at Army, the last league team it defeated (November 27 at West Point). The Cadets are one of the two teams keeping Here's a surprising fact about the 1990 college football season ... Did you know that 1990 was the first time in 54 years there were NO undefeated-untied teams in the regular season in major college football? ... Last time that happened was 1936.

Now available in New Jersey — a home health care insurance policy with low rates.

How's this for a football oddity ... O.J. Simpson and Marcus Allen both played college football for Southern Cal; both played running back; both won the Heisman Trophy; and — incredibly — when they entered the National Football League, both Simpson and Allen each finished with the EXACTLY 697 yards rushing during their first NFL season! ... What are the odds on that?

Who were the head coaches in the very first Super Bowl game? ... Vince Lombardi coached Green Bay to victory in the first Super Bowl over Kansas City and their head coach, Hank Stram.

the Tigers from falling into the basement.

Life after Death?

Is there life after death? The contests against the Raiders and the Cadets will give Princeton a chance to jump out of its grave and do something positive. Do they care enough to do it? Does anybody care enough to come watch, with the high-flying basketball team playing both nights in Jadwin for the first time this season?

The Tigers are virtually assured of stumbling toward a finish in the bottom four of the league and a quick exit from the playoffs (assuming they go no lower than 10th), so maybe it doesn't matter anyway.

The Yale game found Princeton with a 1-0 lead after one on Chris Stewart's first goal of the season. Yale rallied for four in the second, while the Tigers could manage just one tally, Scott Sinson getting his first career goal. Joel Gaustad closed the gap to 4-3, on a power play goal early in the third, but the Elis came up with another pair to put this one safely away.

Saturday, Brown took a 2-0 lead in the first, before Princeton struck for its only goal of the night. Andre Faust broke his personal scoring drought with a goal, but the Bruins added another before the period ended.

Princeton was through for the evening at that point, but the home team tallied three more, two in the second and one in the third. Goalies Mark Salsbury and Ron High saw action in both games; neither was effective, and the only thing these mid-game switches seems to produce is a further erosion of their confidence.

Note: Rob LaFerriere was given a game misconduct in the second period of the Yale game for arguing with the referee, after a penalty call against him. He was benched the next night against Brown by coach Jim Higgins. Defenseman Mike McKee's ankle may have healed sufficiently for him to play this weekend.

Local Swimmers Excel In Holiday Swim Meet

Two Princeton area swim clubs grabbed top prizes in a national invitational swim meet held at Princeton University and Trenton State College earlier this month.

Peddle Aquatic Association finished first and Eastern Express came in ninth overall from among 45 teams that took part in the Holiday Classic swim, one of the largest swimming competitions in the country.

Fifty-seven new records out of 110 events were established at the meet as well as 25 senior national and 89 junior national qualifying times. Over 1,000 swimmers from 10 states competed in the meet.

Princeton-based Eastern Express, a relatively young team, edged out several other established swim clubs at the meet. The Express began training in 1987 with 16 swimmers and has grown to 85 members from the greater Mercer County area.

West Windsor's Bret Awbrey, 12, led the Express with medal-winning performances in seven events, including a first-place finish in the 200-yard freestyle (1:58.99). Awbrey also placed second in the 500 free (5:16.02); third, 50 fly; fourth, 100 free; sixth, 100 and 200 individual medleys; and eighth, 100 back.

In the girls' 11-12 division, Catherine Preston, a 7th grader at John Witherspoon Middle School, finished fourth in the 500 free (5:35.16) and seventh in the 200 free.

RECORD BREAKERS: Eastern Express team members Meryl Spiewak, Jen Storea, Sarah Frazer and Gabrielle Devereux have set a new meet record of 4:13.43 in the 13-14 age group, 400-yard medley relay at the Holiday Classic held in the Princeton area in December. In all, 57 new records were set at this meet, which featured more than 1000 swimmers from 45 teams and 10 states. Spiewak is a freshman at West Windsor High School; Storea, an 8th grader at Hopewell Valley Regional; Frazer an 8th grader at John Witherspoon School and Devereux is a freshman at Princeton High School.

The 13-14 girls' 400-yard medley relay team of Meryl Spiewak, Jen Storea, Sarah Frazer and Gabrielle Devereux set a new meet record of 4:13.43.

Devereux also turned in an outstanding effort in the 500 free in which she placed second in 5:04.23. She finished fourth in the 100 back. Devereux blazed a 53.69 100-yard, lead-off leg on the third-place 400-yard free relay which also included Spiewak, Storea and Frazer.

Frazer won a fourth place medal in the 200 IM and finished eighth in the 100 fly.

In other 13-14 girls' action, Princeton Day School 8th-grader Heather Payne took third in the 100 back (1:03.39). Hopewell Valley Regional's Emily Moreland swam a set a new meet record of 2:03.08 in the 200 free.

In the 13-14 boys' competition, Princeton High School freshman Francis Franze finished third in the 200 IM (2:06.23) and sixth in the 100 fly. Andy Potts swam a strong 500 free. Princeton High School freshman Aaron Livingston was timed in 54:23 in the 100 free, and Marshall Preston, another PHS freshman, swam a personal best in the 500 free.

Hopewell Valley High sophomore Kevin Radvany, 15, swam an excellent Open 1650 freestyle in 16:17.44, just shy of a Junior National qualifying time, placing sixth. Princeton High School sophomore Landon Jones, also 15, swam a strong 1650 free, placing 12th, while Brendon Conlon, a senior at the Hun School, swam a personal best of 2:03.38 in the 200 IM.

In other senior competition, Christine Jensen won a medal in the 100 free with her time of 54.14. She also captured the consolation final in the 500 free (5:07.47) and 200 back (2:14.75).

Leading a strong 10-and-under group for the Express was Princeton Day School's

PHS Tops Nottingham For Fourth Court Win

By gaining a 59-47 victory over visiting Nottingham Friday, the Princeton High basketball team gained its fourth win of the season against five losses and thus maintained Coach Doug Snyder's goal of staying close to .500. That is where the Little Tigers want to be by the January 29 cutoff date for the state tournament.

Earlier in the week, PHS — at one time leading by 12 in the third period — succumbed to a Lawrence High rally and bowed to the Cardinals, 71-65.

Noting that the Little Tigers will entertain West Windsor Friday night at 7 and then visit Notre Dame on Tuesday before clashing with town rival Princeton Day School, Snyder commented, "We have some formidable contests coming up. But with a little bit of luck we might win some of those."

Snyder said that he expects a tough, physical game against West Windsor, which defeated Ewing by three points in its last start for its seventh win in eight games. The Little Tigers have not beaten the Pirates in five years, going back to Snyder's first year as coach when Peter Paris, Mike Riddick, Darius Young and John Thompson stopped them, 77-68, with Paris scoring a career-high 30 points.

As for the upcoming battle with Princeton Day School next Thursday, Snyder said of the streaking Panthers, "They're playing very well; they've got some good talent. I have a feeling they are going to be very, very up for us: the Battle of Princeton."

Reynolds to Return?

To meet the challenge of staying close to .500, the Little Tigers may soon have another weapon in their arsenal. The cast on Bram Reynolds' hand that was scheduled to come off January 14 or 15 may come off this Friday, Snyder reported, when the 6-3 freshman has an appointment with his doctor.

"Of course it will take a little while for him to be fully recovered," said Snyder, "but I can play him for a couple of minutes. Just his presence on the court will help."

Ahead by four at the half, the Little Tigers outscored Nottingham 16-9 in the third period to pull away from the winless Northstars. The Blue and White's two big scorers this year, Brian Williams and sophomore Rodney Derry again led the way with 16 and 18 points. Scott Simmons, "a nice, steady ballplayer," said Snyder, added seven points.

The game with Hamilton was the one that the Little Tigers let slip away. PHS shot 69 percent in the first half to take an eight point lead and increased its margin to 12 before the Hornets, recalled Snyder, "started putting the ball in the hole."

The Hornets' Mike Williams got hot, sinking 13 of his game-high 33 points in the fourth period when Hamilton outscored PHS, 25-14, to seize the game. "They started doing what we were doing in the first half," said Snyder. The Hornets canned 69 percent of their shots in the second half; Princeton's 33 percent effort in the half "didn't help," sighed Snyder.

Public Invited to Skate-a-thon

The first annual New Jersey Special Olympics Skate-a-thon will be held on the weekend of January 11 to 13 at the Mercer County Park ice rink in West Windsor.

Interested skaters can obtain pledges for the number of minutes they skate during any one of the general sessions held that weekend. The proceeds from the skate-a-thon will benefit the New Jersey Special Olympics 1991 Winter Games which will take place January 27 to 30 at Vernon Valley/Great Gorge and the Mennen Sports Arena.

Skaters can win prizes from AT&T, Sony and the New Jersey Devils based on the levels of funds raised.

For further information and application forms call the Mercer County Park ice rink, 596-8090, or New Jersey Special Olympics, (201) 562-1500.

Wasted in the loss to the once-beaten Hornets was a career-high 27-point performance by Williams.

Princeton's senior captain had 19 points in the first half but managed only five shots in the second. Derry added 20 points to reach 20 or higher for the seventh straight game and Scott Schroeder contributed nine points, but no other Little Tiger scored more than four.

PHS Girls Bow Twice On Court to Fall to 1-5

The return to action by the Princeton High girls' basketball team last week was not a successful venture, as the Little Tigers lost to Nottingham on Friday and to Hamilton earlier, to fall to 1-4 on the season.

Ahead for first-year coach Ron Antoniotti's team is a Friday contest at 7 at West Windsor and a game at home Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 against Notre Dame.

Against Nottingham, Princeton had the game's top scorer in Joan Sullivan, who poured in 20 points, but she was the only Little Tiger in double figures while the Northstars had three. PHS was held under double figures in each of the final three periods. Marcie Procaccini added eight points, Christel Wiener and Jenny Terpstra, four each, and Nicole Miros, three, to account for all the Little Tiger scoring.

It took unbeaten Hamilton one period to get its game into gear, but over the next three it outscored Princeton, 56 to 23, to rout the visiting Tigers, 64-29. The Hornets' Jen Caterson scored a season-high 29 points to equal the losers' score. Sullivan and Procaccini led Princeton with eight points each.

PDS Basketball Takes 2; Improves Record to 8-4

Last year PDS basketball coach Maura Kelly wasn't happy with the long layoff her players had during Christmas break. It took her charges a few days to get back in gear in January.

Thanks to a busy schedule this season, the Panthers won't have that problem; they'll never be far away from their next game. After splitting two games in the George Tournament over the holidays, PDS got back in action quickly and successfully last week.

On Friday, the Blue and White whipped St. Joseph's, 75-49, and followed up with a 52-48 triumph in overtime against Steinert on Saturday. That improved PDS's season's mark to 8-4. This week it will face Pingry on Wednesday, away.

and Wardlaw on Friday at home.

Since the two began playing several years ago, the Panthers have never lost to St. Joe's, winning many one-sided games in the process. This one was no exception, as the winners jumped out to a 19-6 lead in the first period, and increased it every period thereafter.

James Reed had a game-high 19 points, Chris Jones followed with 10, David Wise and Jason Powell had eight apiece, Harvey Bradley and Mike Moyer, six apiece.

Against Steinert, the score was close all the way, but PDS did hold a slight edge entering the fourth period. The Spartans tied it 45-45 at the end of regulation time, sending the game into overtime.

PDS never did get a field goal during the extra session, but hit seven free throws, while holding the visitors to just three points. Reed pumped in another 19, Jones had 13, Wise, seven, Bradley, six, and Moyer, four.

PHS Matmen Are 4-0; Face 4-0 Irish Next

It was a week to remember — and savor — for the Princeton High wrestling team. Make that the undefeated PHIS wrestling team.

The Little Tigers combined a first-period pin by Garret Morris and a forfeit at heavyweight to overcome a 10-point deficit with two bouts to go to edge Allentown, 33-31, on Saturday. Two days earlier, they shaded West Windsor, 26-25, in an emotion-filled meet before a roaring home crowd, to defeat the Pirates for the first time since 1978. Said a jubilant PHIS coach Matt Wilkinson after the dramatic West Windsor win, "This is what Keith [Wadsworth] and I have been working for for five years. There isn't a guy on the team that I'm not proud of."

The two wins left PHIS with a 4-0 mark. The lone other unbeaten team in Mercer County is Notre Dame, which also owns a victory over West Windsor, the defending Colonial Division champion in the CVC. The two teams will meet this Wednesday evening at Notre Dame. Varsity matches should begin about an hour after the start of the 6:30 jayvee bouts. "It should be a good match," predicted Wilkinson.

On Saturday at 10:30, the Little Tigers will test Lawrence High in the Cardinals' gym.

Princeton's early success has also brought another honor: a ranking for the first time among the top 15 teams in the state's Region V. "It's like the football rankings," explained Wilkinson.

New Cast of Heroes

While veterans like Vince Franze, Jim Brophy and Matt Curran were suffering defeats against Allentown, "a new cast of heroes," said Wilkinson, came to the fore. In three straight bouts — from 130 through 140 pounds — Princeton's Jason Kirby pinned in 1:34, Matt Pickens won a 13-7 decision and Alex Weinberg pinned in 2:14. Ian Reddy had staked PHS to a 6-0 lead in the first match with a fall in 4:57.

Allentown swept the next four matches after Weinberg's pin to take a 31-21 lead. After Morris's pin, the outcome hung on the heavyweight match. When the home team sent their wrestler out on the mat, Wilkinson informed the referee that he had weighed in at 186 — two pounds under the required minimum. As a consequence, Princeton's Felipe Dominguez won by forfeit.

"That gave it to us; otherwise we might not have pulled it out," said Wilkinson.

In a one-point victory, every match is crucial, but the key bout in the West Windsor victory, Wilkinson felt, was freshman 152-pounder Steve Lutkowski defeating WW junior Nick Gates, 7-6. Gates had tried to intimidate Lutkowski with some strong-arm, roughhouse tactics, but the only one not intimidated was referee Chet Dalgewicz, who hit the hot-tempered Gates with a couple of unsportsmanlike-penalty points. With Princeton partisans rocking the jammed gymnasium with chants of "Let's go, Steve!" Lutkowski started the final period with a 4-0 lead. When the gutsy freshman hung on for a 7-6 victory to bring PHIS to within two, 17-15, he shot his hands high in the air in victory.

Another key match came at 160 pounds where Jim Brophy battled the Pirates' top wrestler, Brian Lyszcza, to a 2-2 draw. At the end Brophy was the stronger, fresher wrestler and Lyszcza was hanging on. Emotions ran high and there were extra police on hand because of the aftermath of a fracas between students from the two schools in November at the MarketFair mall. Lyszcza allegedly broke three vertebrae in the back of PHS football quarterback Ryan Branon, who has been out of school most of the time since.

Although he lost a 13-5 decision to Matt McClanahan, an award for the most gutsy performance has to go to Weinberg. Mauled, completely spent, needing a minute's injury time, Weinberg refused to give in. A lesson in courage.

Trailing most of the match, PHIS grabbed the lead when Matt Curran pinned Jeff Capelli in 3:26 in their 171-pound match and Morris followed with a 6-1 decision over Jason Gershon to give the Blue and White an insurmountable, 26-19 lead. The improvement by Curran over last year has been remarkable. "Like night and day," said Wilkinson.

Ian Reddy started PHS off with a 2-1 decision in the opening bout over Bill Mockler. Franze knotted the team score at six with his 4-2 decision over Joe Pirone. Shawn Reddy lost a 6-0 match at 125 pounds but Jason Kirby won another key victory in his 130-pound match with Andy Levine. The score saw-sawed but Kirby needed points at the end. With the final seconds ticking away, he scored a reversal. Looking up inquiringly at Dalgewicz, he leaped in the air when Dalgewicz nodded yes and signaled two points for a 9-8 victory.

Matt Pickens lost a four-point decision to Jason Atlas but Adam Basatemur countered in his 140-pound bout with a workmanlike, 8-1 decision over Ben Russell.

In the last bout it appeared as if Dominguez would make it a 32-19 final when he quickly grabbed West Windsor's Jay Ross in a headlock, threw him to the mat and had him in a near pin. Ross managed to work his way free but seemed dazed and Dalgewicz had to inquire if he was all right. Ross went on to pin Dominguez with eight seconds left in the second period.

Hun Quintet Wins 10th As Hames Reaches 1,000

Powered by a 52-point second half surge, the Hun basketball team blew past Germantown Academy 84-69 Saturday for its tenth win in 11 starts. Overshadowing the win, however, was junior guard Dion Hames attaining his 1,000th point off a dazzling coast-to-coast steal with 4:19 left in the third period. The 5-9 Trenton resident with the quick hands finished with a game-high 21 points for Hun.

With an estimated 20 more regular season, Mercer County and state tournament games still to go this season plus another year to play, Hames seems certain to finish as the second all-time Hun scorer behind Ron Payton, who scored 2,559 points. Hames is the fourth non-PG student to reach the 1,000 plateau. Hun coach Kevin Long reports the other three are all between 1,000 and 1,200.

Soon there will be a fifth. Hames's backcourt teammate, RaShawne Glenn, who played on the same eighth-grade Cathedral team with Hames in Trenton, began the season with 650 points. Glenn is around 850 now, says Long, who predicts the 6-1 guard will reach 1,000 near the end of the month.

very often," commented Long. "It's nice to see. To put their names up ... something for others to shoot at."

Deju Vu & Something New

Hun will keep busy this week by hosting Hopewell Valley this Wednesday evening at 8 and visiting Pennington School on Saturday at 7:30 — the same two teams it played in winning the Coaches Classic Tournament a week ago. "I'm not so sure I want to go back and play Pennington a second time," smiled Long. "They'll be waiting for us — but we'll be ready, too. It should be another great game." Hun edged Pennington by one point in an exciting contest to hand the Raiders their first loss after eight wins in the Coaches Tournament.

In between on Friday, Hun will meet the Princeton University JV team at 5:30 as a prelim to the Princeton University-Yale game in Jadwin Gym. "It's a nice opportunity for us, kind of a fun thing," observed Long. It's a first for Hun.

"It's something they started," reported Long. Morrisville and Solebury will also play at Jadwin this winter before Tiger games but "we're the first," said Long. It will be the University's home opener this year. "It's kind of nice to be a part of it, considering Princeton University is doing so well this year," added Long.

Poor Marks on Defense

"Defensively we did not play well in the first half," commented Long on the Germantown game. Nor did the Raiders shoot well, he added.

The visiting Quakers trailed 32-26 at halftime before Hun increased its game a couple of notches. "We picked it up in the third quarter and were able to force the kind of tempo we like," said Long.

After he got his 1,000th, "everything started falling in place for the whole team," said Hames. Hun placed five in double figures. Trailing Hames were Glenn with 18 points, Matt Deering with 16, captain Mike Williams with 12 and sophomore Courtney Fitch with 10.

Two PHS Swim Marks Set in W. Windsor Meet

Gordon Fraser and Scott Petrone set two new Princeton High records last week in a swimming meet against West Windsor at the Pirates' pool.

Hampered by an absence of any divers, the PHS boys nevertheless threw a scare into the 4-1 West Windsor team which prevailed, 99-44, for the 200th win for West Windsor coach Steve Radanovic. The PHS girls, hampered by the loss of last year's sensational freshman swimmer Ashley Dixon, who now swims for Peddie, bowed 121-65 for Radanovic's 201st victory.

Fraser, a sophomore, set a new PHS mark in the 100-yard backstroke of 59.61, while the veteran Petrone was establish-Petrone and Giradet to win the 200 medley relay in 1:46.06 to West Windsor's 1:47.95.

"If we had divers, we definitely would have beaten them," agreed first-year coach Lynne Blomberg. West Windsor swept the diving competition for 13 points and the meet.

The girls, while less successful overall than the boys, duplicated the boys in the 200 freestyle relay by setting a new PHS record in that event. Alice Potts, Robin Meray, Christine Jensen and Gabrielle Devereux swam a record 1:10.88.

Jensen, a sophomore, won both the 100 fly in 1:04.04 and the 100 back in 1:04.80, winning the latter by six seconds. Devereux was also a double winner for PHS, winning the 200 and 500 free events in 2:01.45 and 5:24.50. Her winning margins over West Windsor's Joanna Hughes were eight seconds and 17 seconds.

Ben Giradet was a double winner, capturing the 50 freestyle in 23.27 and the 100 free in 51.31. Francis Franze won the 200 IM in 2:09.66. Franze combined with Fraser,

PHS Skaters Blank Irish; Defense, Guberman Shine

The defense was impenetrable. Goalie Angus Guberman was outstanding.

Princeton High's 3-0 shutout of Notre Dame Monday at Mercer Rink had Little Tiger coach John Hutter commenting, "unbelievable." Needless to say, coming on the heels of a so-so performance in a 5-4 loss to Lawrence in its previous start, the impressive showing against Notre Dame was welcome and wholly satisfying to players and coach alike.

Almost halfway through its regular season, PHS increased its record to 5-2 to stay in contention in the Colonial Valley Conference.

Tara Shingle

It will next play Nottingham on Saturday at 6 and West Windsor on Monday at 7:40. Both games will be played at Mercer Rink.

Against Notre Dame, Little Tiger goalie Angus Guberman stopped all 20 shots mustered by the Irish. In the first period, he made a glove save on a shot by Matt Govan, the CVC's leading scorer; in the second, he denied Govan again on a breakaway.

PHS got on the board at the 8:34 mark in the opening period when Jordan Crane tapped in a Dave Bing pass from behind the net for his first goal of the season. That was all the scoring until just over a minute left in the contest when Josh Boyd poked a rebound past ND goalie Dana Bruce to give PHS a 2-0 lead. Jason Battle's open net goal 12 seconds later, his fifth of the season — tops among the Little Tigers — made it a 3-0 final.

"That was unbelievable," said Hutter of his team's performance. The first year coach, who is just as quick to point out his team's mistakes, had nothing but praise this time. "It was fantastic. There was no let-down. Everybody we sent out gave 100 percent. It was a great team effort."

PHS Rally Fells Short

In its first game after the holiday break last week, PHS was edged, 5-4, by Lawrence.

This time, the PHS defense was not impenetrable. Leading 2-0 off a first-period goal by Jim Bronson and a goal by Matt Baum early in the second period, PHS allowed the Cardinals to score three goals in just over a minute. When Trevor Conrad scored his second goal off a super pass from Chris Meeker late in the middle period, the Cardinals owned a 5-2 lead.

PHS rallied for a pair of goals in the third period, as Boyd and Alex Klein scored within a minute of each other. But with more than six minutes left, the Little Tigers could not get the equalizer. Lawrence outshot PHS, 22-19, to end a two-game losing streak.

Chapin Girl Leads Team To Defeat West Windsor

In a game played as a preliminary to the Princeton University-Lehigh women's basketball game last week, the Pacers, the area's sixth-to-eighth-grade traveling girls' basketball team, defeated West Windsor-Plainsboro Middle School, 66-17.

The losers had difficulty with their opponents' full court press, as the Pacers posted margins of 16-3 and 20-6 in the first two periods.

West Windsor-Plainsboro also had difficulty containing the Pacers' fine point guard, Tara Shingle, who poured in 14 first quarter points on an assortment of shots and kept the losers off-balance with her ability to penetrate their zone and score or dish off to teammates.

Shingle, an eighth-grade student at Chapin School and a 1,000-point scorer for the Pacers, has been described by opposing coaches this year as the best at her level in New Jersey. She finished with a game-leading 32 points.

Hockey Clubs Tie 5-5 In First Game at Baker

The first Battle of Princeton between the Princeton Hockey Club and the Princeton-based Central Jersey Hockey Club at Baker Rink last week ended in a 5-5 tie when Central Jersey scored with 30 seconds left to play.

The two rivals will try to settle who is king of the hill here when they clash for the second time on January 28 at 7:45 at Baker Rink. Both clubs are members of the Commuters League Southern Division, where PHC is currently 1-1-1 and Central Jersey 0-1-2 in league play. Central Jersey's next outing will be against the Beacon Hill Club in Summit on Saturday at 6:30.

Princeton Hockey Club took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Mike Young and Mark Inman, but Steve Cook tallied for Central Jersey with three minutes left in the opening period.

In the second period, after a Carl Erdman goal gave PHC a 3-1 lead, Central Jersey gained a 3-3 tie on goals by Larry Sanford and Steve Gill. It remained tied when both teams exchanged goals in the third period, Steve Judge beating CJ goalie Eric Monberg and John Cook beating PHC goalie John Boyd.

With 1:04 left in the game, Erdman netted his second goal for the apparent game-winner. After the ensuing face-off, Central Jersey got the puck into its end and pulled its goalie for the extra skater — Dave Ellison. In a frantic flurry behind the net, Ellison and Sanford dug the puck out and passed it to Steve Cook, who blasted in the tying shot with 30 seconds left.

Gib Johnson, Chris Fischer and Gill played some solid defense for the shorthanded Central Jersey team. Monberg had 28 saves — three at point-blank range at one point in the game — while Boyd was just as effective for PHC with close to 30 saves.

Princeton First Aid & Rescue Squad, Inc. NEEDS YOUR HELP!

The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has been serving the Princeton community continually for more than 50 years. It began in 1939 with a station wagon equipped with first-aid supplies donated by Johnson & Johnson. Today, there are five vehicles furnished with an array of state-of-the-art equipment.

All members are graduates of the State-certified Emergency Medical Technician training program, ready to deliver prompt, reliable, dependable, and professional emergency medical care. They arrive within minutes of your call for help — 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 52 weeks a year.

Whatever the nature of your emergency, they have the equipment and skill to provide the best pre-hospital emergency care available.

- 1939 First Aid Unit of Princeton Engine Company No. 1 officially formed
- 1941 Unit's first ambulance purchased
- 1955 First boat acquired for water rescue
- 1956 Fully equipped van bought as first rescue truck
- 1957 Unit renamed the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, Inc.
- 1960 Ladies' Auxiliary incorporated
- 1963 Moved to present headquarters on North Harrison Street
- 1969 New custom-built rescue truck purchased
- 1970 First modular-type ambulance in New Jersey arrives
- 1977 First female members join the Squad
- 1985 Mercer County begins county-wide paramedic coverage

The only financial support the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad receives is through voluntary donations by members of the community. Within the next year, the squad must replace the rescue truck acquired in 1969. The projected cost of this purchase far exceeds what had been anticipated.

We Need Your Help Now to be Prepared for the Future

Volunteer members are also needed. We are always looking for mature, motivated individuals to join our family of volunteers. If you would like more information on how to help us directly serve the community, please call or drop by.

OBITUARIES

Thomas S. Matthews, former editor of Time magazine, died January 4 at his home in Cavendish, England. He was 89 and a former Princeton resident.

Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr. Matthews came to Princeton in 1915 when his father, the Rt. Rev. Paul Matthews, was made Episcopal Bishop of New Jersey. He was educated at Shattuck School in Minnesota and St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H. He graduated from Princeton University with the Class of 1922 and earned an M.A. at New College, Oxford University, in 1925.

After Oxford, he worked for the New Republic magazine in New York City for four years before joining Time magazine in 1929, six years after its founding. He became books editor, assistant managing editor, executive editor, managing editor and from 1949 to 1953, editor, a post he took over from Henry R. Luce, the founder of Time. He was known for his merciless editing of sloppy writing and as one from whom even faint praise was prized.

In 1953, Mr. Matthews went to England to set up a British version of Time. This venture, however, was dropped by Time Inc. in New York City in favor of a new magazine, Sports Illustrated. Mr. Matthews remained in England where he worked briefly for both the Manchester Guardian and the Daily Mirror before writing a book on journalism called The Sugar Pill.

A Princeton resident until he left for England, he was married to Juliana Stevens Cuyler of Princeton in 1925. They had four sons. She died in 1949. In 1954 he married, Martha Gelhorn, an old friend from his New Republic days with whom he wrote a travel book called O My America! They were divorced 10 years later.

In 1964 he married Pamela F. Peniakoff of England and in 1969 moved from London to live at Cavendish Hall, Cavendish, Suffolk. His books include Name and Address, the first part of his autobiography, published in 1960; Great Tom: Notes Towards a Definition of T.S. Eliot, which appeared in 1974 in both England and the U.S.; the second half of his autobiography, Jacks or Better, and Angels Unawares: Twentieth Century Portraits, published in 1985.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by four sons, Thomas S. Jr. of Cavendish, Suffolk, England, John P.C. of Princeton, Paul of Lambertville, and W. Alexander of Goveton, Devon, England; two sisters, Margaret Flinsch of White Plains, N.Y., and Mrs. Dorothea M. Dooling of Mt. Kisco, N.Y.; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A service was held in Cavendish. A second service will be held Saturday, January 19, at 11 at Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, where he will be buried.

John H. Smith, 83, former Princeton Borough Police Chief, died December 25 at his home in Sebastian, Fla., following a brief illness.

Born in Trenton, he moved to Princeton when he was 4 years old and attended Princeton School. He also took criminology and law enforcement courses at Rutgers University and attended the State Police Academy in Sea Girt. He joined the Princeton Police Department in 1927, at a time when it consisted of seven men and a Model T Ford squad car.

There were still some unpaved streets in Princeton then and occasional horse and buggy traffic. Mr. Smith is the last of that group of seven police officers. He was named lieutenant in 1936, acting chief in 1954 and chief in 1955. He was active for many years with the Crescent Temple Lodge in Trenton, the Princeton Masonic Lodge and the Hellsmere Masonic Lodge No. 232 F&AM in Florida.

He retired as police chief in 1959 and moved to his summer home in the Poconos with his wife Anne. He did security work for a nearby state park during the summer months and went to Florida in the winters. The Smiths moved to Sebastian, Fla. in 1972.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a sister, Margaret Demink of Little Hollywood, Fla.; a cousin, David Smith of Florida, and several nieces and nephews.

A graveside service was held December 29 in the Sebastian Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Shriners Crippled Children's Hospital, c/o Sebastian River Shrine Club, PO Box 324, Sebastian, Fla. 32958.

Theodore K. Goreau, 37, died December 18 in Cairo, Ga., after a year's illness. Born in Wilmington, Del., Mr. Goreau was brought up in Princeton, where he was known as "T."

He was graduated from Stockbridge School in Massachusetts and attended the University of North Carolina at Asheville. He was manager of plant propagation at Imperial Nurseries in Quincy, Fla., and later at Whyte's in Cairo. He was a member of the executive board of the Southeastern Propagators Association.

Mr. Goreau leaves two sons, Keaton and Ryan, of Quincy; his mother, Dr. Eloise Goreau, of Princeton; his father, Theodore N. Goreau, of Quincy; and his sister, Angeline Goreau, of New York.

The service was held at the First Baptist Church in Quincy.

Nicola E. Tamasi, 93, died January 6 at home. Born in Petroranello, Italy, Mr. Tamasi lived in the Township most of his life. He was a retired self-employed landscaper and a member of Roma Eterna Lodge of Princeton.

Husband of the late Santa Bambina Tamasi, he is survived by two daughters, Modestina DeBaggis and Maria Rossi, both of Princeton; six grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 8:45 a.m. from the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue. A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at 9:30 in St. Paul's Church, followed by burial in Princeton Cemetery. Friends may call this Wednesday from 3 to 4 and 7 to 9 at the funeral home.

Bulletin Notes

Nassau Presbyterian Church will be the host for the Twelfth Night Whitechapel Bell Festival — a program of holiday music that will include both massed and solo ringing by bell choirs from area churches that use Whitechapel handbells — on Saturday at 7:30.

F. Paul Dickey, director of music at the Presbyterian Church, Basking Ridge, will be the director of the massed choir. Participating choirs include Ridgewood United Methodist, Prospect Presbyterian, Community Church of Mountain Lakes, Chevy Chase Presbyterian, Hilltop Presbyterian in Mendham, Palmyra Church of Brethren, the Presbyterian Church, Basking Ridge and Nassau Church.

Admission is free, and all are welcome.

The Golden Agers of St. Paul's Church are planning an eight-day trip to Orlando, Fla. The trip includes deluxe motorcoach transportation, overnight stays at Day's Inn, North Carolina, five nights accommodations at Comfort Inn, Orlando, Fla., four breakfasts and two dinners. Shuttle service to Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom, Universal Studio, Epcot, MGM and Sea World will be provided.

For more information call 921-8237.

The Jacobs Brothers of Dillsburg, Pa., will appear in concert Friday at 7:30 at Bunker Hill Lutheran Church, Griggstown.

The group is composed of three brothers, Bob, Mike and Dick Jacobs, original members of the group who started in East Berlin, Pa. in 1962. The fourth member is Mike Lawver who joined the group in 1972. Dedicated to spreading the gospel through music, they have traveled widely, produced numerous record albums and hosted international tours. They also have a weekly television program and a camp for children in central Pennsylvania.

For information call the church at 297-5096.

Theodore Johnson, a sophomore and a tenor at Westminster Choir College, and the Munford family choir will present a concert of spiritual and gospel music Saturday at 7 at First Baptist Church. The concert is sponsored by the Pastor's Aid Society, which will take a free will offering.

Miriam Gafni, a Philadelphia area attorney, will be the featured speaker at a meeting of the Women's Division Business and Professional Division of the Princeton Area United Jewish Appeal Monday at 6:30 at the home of Cecilia Rosenblum of Princeton.

For further information call Jeri Zimmerman, executive director, Princeton Area United Jewish Appeal, 243-9440.

Temple Micah's next service will be held on Friday at 8 at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church in the upstairs chapel. Guest Rabbi Lauren Levy, Jewish chaplain at the Lawrenceville School and Rutgers Hillel, will lead the service. She will also share her perspective on "Judaism and Jews on the Campus." The U.S. Route 1, Monmouth Junction 08852, or will be taken at Ruth and Murray Howard.

For additional information, write Temple Micah, P.O. Box 6355, Lawrenceville, 08648 or call 921-1128.

Princeton Alliance Church is sponsoring an educational seminar for parents of young children and teens, grandparents, teachers, youth workers and other interested adults on Saturday from 9:30 to 2:30 at the church.

The seminar will be led by Walt Mueller, executive director of Headfirst Ministries in Glenside, Pa., a nonprofit Christian organization serving youth and families on a local and national level. Lunch is included in the $12 per person registration fee, and a free children's program will be provided during the seminar. Registration forms may be mailed to the church at 4315 U.S. Route 1, Monmouth Junction 08852, or will be taken at the door. The program helps parents understand the pressures and influences today's adolescents face. Hope and encouragement are offered to parents by challenging and equipping them to respond in a practical manner that is distinctively Biblical.

Mr. Mueller is a 15-year veteran of local church and parachurch youth ministry. He is the author of Ministry to Families with Teenagers.

TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

Start off the new year right — choose one for '91

SPEAKING OUT - by Jim Firestone, Broker

Why do I think that real estate will pick up now? Over the past few years the interest rate has been kept artificially high to favor other parts of the national economy. It has been raised especially in the springtime also and this decreases the volume of homes being sold. Each year since the spring of 1987 sales volume has been off by 15-20%. Add it up. After 3 years that could account for 60% more supply left over. It was just builders overbuilding, or a general slowdown in our area. The federal government's policy of artificially high interest rates raised in the springtime is the major culprit. Good news is that the government has to lower interest rates for other parts of the economy that they've been favoring because of a general slowdown in consumption and that real estate will now get the side benefit. The rate is falling quickly (now at 9 1/4%) so you can expect housing sales to pick up. The best buys and best selection of homes are now. When the business recession begins our real estate recession is almost over.

A MAGNIFICENT WESTERN PRINCETON WILLIAMSBURG COLONIAL set on 2.33 acres of woodland with beautiful mature landscaping. Inside is a warm slate entry foyer with a front-to-back sunken living room with fireplace. The family room also has a fireplace and built-in bookcases with a French door to the flagstone patio. The formal dining room is accented with grasscloth and is convenient to the recently expanded eat-in-kitchen which has top-of-the-line appliances and a great breakfast area. Upstairs, are four ample bedrooms including a step-down master suite plus room for expansion of another suite above the garage. It's a real find in this market, a house with character and priced to sell.
